Wants Russian Pledge Not To Take Unilateral Action

Geneva—(P)—The western allies today were reported determined to remain in West Berlin as long as Germany remains divided.

Diplomatic informers said a revised western proposal being drawn up for the Big Four foreign ministers' conference would demand once again that the Russians pledge not to take unilateral action against West Berlin at any time in the future.

Over the weekend British Foreign Sec. Selwyn Lloyd had been reported urging his allies to accept a Russian pledge for a limited time. But Lloyd was said today to have agreed with Sec. of State Christian A. Herter that western policy on the issue of protection for West Berlin should stand unchanged.

Russia and the western powers were rewriting their rival proposals for breaking the Berlin crisis. Each side obviously hoped the other would come up with new concessions.

Disarmament Issue
The Big Four ministers planned no meeting today. The three western ministers met and were reported to have sought some new formula for resuming stalled east-west disarmament negotiations.

Diplomatic sources said this problem probably would be taken up with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko before the Geneva conference ends. Gromyko is said to have indicated an interest in the disarmament question in private talks.

There have been no disarmament negotiations since 1957 when the Soviet Union denounced the U.N. disarmament subcommittee on the grounds that it was one-sided. It was composed of the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union.

Some western diplomats are now thinking in terms of a larger group made up of three members each from the east and the west with a neutral chairman.

Merchants to Hold Sidewalk Sale Wednesday

Fox Cities shoppers will take part in an unusual sales event in Appleton Wednesday. It's an old-fashioned sidewalk sale presented by Appleton Downtown Retail Association. Clerks will be selling items from special booths and display counters on sidewalks in front of participating stores.

Dust Closes Machine at U. S. Exhibit

Moscow—(P)—The electronic question-and-answer machine at the U. S. exhibition bit the dust today. Powdery clouds of grit churned up by thousands of visitors tramping over the concrete floor at the main exhibition dome immobilized the delicate machinery.

The computer is primed with thousands of Russian-language answers to questions about life in the United States expected from visitors. It produced the answers at the flick of a button.

Awaits Better Floor
The harried director of the exhibition said the machine will be closed down temporarily until a better floor can be laid. He said hopes to have local workmen put in an asphalt floor over the 30,000 square feet of concrete.

Harold C. McClellan, general director of the exhibit, said he hopes to move in a repair crew while the exhibit is closed for the night. He added it might be a good idea if some U. S. firm agreed to ship in crew and material to install a durable flooring.

Man Killed in Car Crash Near Wittenberg

Shawano—The death of a Shawano county man has raised Wisconsin's 1959 highway toll to 420. The total on this day a year ago was 424.

Robert Mirsch, 64, of Shawano was killed Monday as his car overturned in a ditch along Highway 29, four and a half miles southwest of Wittenberg.

Accident Rate in U. S. Declines in 35 Years

Chicago—(P)—Some 91,000 persons were killed and 9 million others suffered disabling injuries in accidents last year in the United States.

But the National Safety Council, which reported the figures, says a person is safer from accidents now than he was 35 years ago.

The 91,000 accidental deaths, the council said, were only 1,100 less than the 1923-32 average of 92,100. It added the record is more impressive when the rapid population growth since 1930 is considered.

There were 77.4 accidental deaths for every 100,000 persons in the country 35 years ago, the council said. Last year there were 52.5 deaths per 100,000 persons.

$12 Billion Loss
The council estimated the monetary cost of the nation's accidents in 1958 at $12 billion. Wage losses alone amounted to nearly $4 billion. Medical fees and hospital expenses accounted for another $960 million. Property damage, production loss and insurance costs took the remainder of the $12 billion.

The council, in a report on its statistical yearbook, Accident Facts, said traffic accidents, as usual, took the heaviest toll—37,000, an average of more than 100 lives a day.

Since the start of the century, motor vehicle accidents have killed 1,265,000 persons. By comparison, 604,773 Americans have been killed in battle or died of wounds in all this nation's principal wars, from the Revolutionary war through the Korean conflict.

Home accidents caused four million disabling injuries and 1,800,000 suffered disabling injuries at work. The council said the na-

New Drive in House to Cut Foreign Aid

Measure Expected To be Forwarded to Senate Late Today

Washington—(P)—A $3,186,500,000 foreign-aid appropriation bill, already far below President Eisenhower's request, faces a new cutting drive today in the house.

Indications were the bill would be sent to the senate late in the day substantially in the form it was drafted last week by the house appropriations committee.

Some members say the amount provided by the committee is too much; others contend it's too little. The White House has labeled the measure inadequate in its present form and would like it boosted by $390,295,000.

An increase of that amount would provide $3,576,795,000 for use during the present fiscal year to help friendly nations in their resistance to communism. That is the amount authorized by congress in separate bills setting ceilings for the aid program.

Ike's Requests
President Eisenhower originally sought an authorization for $3,929,950,000 for the present year. He added $500 million to that request last week with the explanation the extra half billion would be an advance against loan funds authorized for next year.

The committee not only rejected the advance payment of $500 million for next year but lopped $390,295,000 from the bill.

Inter-American Bank Has Congress Backing

Washington—(P)—United States participation in the new Inter-American Development bank has been assured by approval from congress. The bank aims to speed the economic growth of Latin America.

The house passed a measure agreeing to a role for this country by a 230-87 vote yesterday and sent it to President Eisenhower. The senate had approved it earlier by an 89-3 vote.

McDonald Does Not Look For Agreement Before Contracts Expire Friday

New York—(P)—A major strike in the aluminum industry was threatened today as negotiations in the 2-week-old steel strike remained deadlocked.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said he expected no agreement in the aluminum industry before contracts with major firms expire at midnight Friday.

McDonald, whose union represents workers in aluminum as well as steel, said the same "no contract, no work" policy covers both industries.

The copper industry also faced a possible strike threat.

Officials of the Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers union were reported considering a strike against the nation's copper plants and mines next month. The union's contracts expired June 30, but its members are working while negotiations continue.

Joint Meeting
Steel industry and union representatives met jointly yesterday for the first time since the nationwide steel strike began.

Joseph F. Finnegan, director of the federal mediation and conciliation service, told newsmen after the 2-hour session.

"There was an exchange of viewpoints by the parties, but I can't say anything beyond that. I don't think there was

Committee Votes Against Boost in Gasoline Taxes

Washington—(P)—The house ways and means committee today voted down proposals to increase gasoline taxes to keep construction of the federal interstate highway system on schedule.

The committee action was not final, however, and could be reversed at any time.

The committee continued to meet behind closed doors in an effort to agree on some highway financing plan as an alternative to President Eisenhower's demand for a 1-cent raise in the federal gasoline tax.

Answers Critic On Forecasting Of Hurricane

New Orleans Bureau Head Thinks Good Warning Was Given

New Orleans—(P)—Stephen Lichtblau, chief forecaster of the weather bureau here, today defended the bureau's forecasting of Hurricane Debora. "We were fortunate to get out a warning," he said.

Lichtblau's comments were made in answer to criticism by the Houston Chronicle for not getting out earlier warnings on the approach of the hurricane which struck the middle Texas gulf coast late Friday, causing damage estimated at several million dollars.

"I don't see how we can do any better," Lichtblau said.

The Chronicle, in a front page editorial, said: "It is unfortunate the weather bureau does not have as efficient prognosticators as it does press agents."

Tells of Equipment
"Early in the hurricane season, papers were furnished elaborate stories about the preparations for forecasting hurricanes . . ."

The editorial described radar systems with expensive equipment, elaborate communications systems and an airplane hurricane-spotting system, all of which it said, the weather bureau claimed would greatly surprise hurricanes.

The editorial continued: "So a hurricane hit the Texas gulf coast. The weather bureau seemed almost as uninformed as the ordinary citizen."

The newspaper said the Houston Weather Bureau "was not involved in the fiasco last week. Hurricane warnings are issued by the New Orleans office."

In New Orleans today, Lichtblau said: "I don't know what they are squawking about. There are very few injuries. Apparently people were adequately warned."

Siberian City Cheers American

Novosibirsk, Soviet Union—(P)—About 20,000 friendly, applauding Russians gave Vice President Richard M. Nixon the warmest welcome of his Soviet tour when he arrived in this Siberian city today for a good will visit.

Nixon arrived amid solid signs he was considering more and more favorably a recommendation that President Eisenhower invite Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev to the United States for a visit.

Persons close to Nixon were understood to be making some impact on him with arguments that Khrushchev must see for himself the strength and vigor of the American economy and the unity of its people to rid him of misconceptions.

Thousands of men and women lined the streets here, in some, places four and five deep, to wave greetings to Nixon and his wife.

Communist leaders of this developing Siberian industrial area rode through town with the Nixons.

Visits Research Center
A bus carrying American correspondents traveling with Nixon was nearly mobbed by several thousand excited Russians, hands outstretched in greeting, when they arrived in Stalin square.

Soviet authorities were understood to have agreed finally to allow Nixon to tour the Siberian branch of the Academy of Sciences. This is to be a huge scientific research center for the entire Siberian-Ural area.

Nixon insisted on this visit during his 4½-hour one-stop flight from Leningrad.

After touring a turbo-generator plant, the vice president arranged to attend a performance of "Swan Lake" ballet with members of his party.

Chamoun's Aide Assassinated in Mountain Region

Beirut, Lebanon—(P)—A right-hand man of former President Camille Chamoun was assassinated last night while driving to a champagne reception at President Fuad Chehab's summer palace. Security forces were rushed to the scene to prevent a spread of violence.

Police said Naim Moghabghab, 48-year-old member of the Lebanese parliament and a former guerrilla fighter, was beaten and stabbed to death while driving through territory in the Lebanon mountains dominated by followers of his political foe, socialist leader Kamal Jumblatt.

Authorities said those responsible for the assassination had been arrested but did not identify them.

New State Votes In First Election

Hawaiians Ballot for Governor, Senators, Congressman, See Election of Oriental Candidate

BY ROBERT TUCKMAN

Honolulu —(P)— The nation's newest state voted today in its first election.

From Hilo to Honolulu, the melting pot of people who live on this 300-mile island chain, cast ballots for two U. S. Senators, one representative, a governor and a 76-member state legislature.

It appeared certain — for the first time in U. S. history — that a person of Japanese or Chinese ancestry would be sent to congress.

Republicans conceded their role as underdogs but hoped to upset predictions of a Democratic sweep by grabbing several major offices.

Democrats made a strong showing in the June primary and have won Hawaii elections since 1954.

Election officials predicted a record vote, perhaps 90 per cent of the 183,099 registrants.

Most Hawaii attention was focussed on the race for governor, pitting Democrat John A. Burns against Eisenhower-appointed Gov. William F. Quinn.

Burns, 50, serving a second term as elected delegate to congress, piled up 69,152 votes in winning the Democratic nomination June 27 from a comparatively unknown opponent.

Quinn, 40, got 49,531 votes in running unopposed for the Republican candidacy.

Burns is backed by Harry Bridges' Longshoremen's union which claims 24,000 sugar, pineapple and dock workers here.

NAACP Starts Drive to Get Harlem Sales

Attempt May be Discrimination Against Whites

New York —(P)— An NAACP drive to get Negro liquor salesmen a larger share of the Harlem market has touched off allegations this may constitute discrimination against whites.

The anti-defamation league of B'nai B'rith, a notional Jewish organization, said Monday it was investigating such allegations.

Delicate Problem

The league said the problem was extremely delicate, because of the long and close association the groups have had in fighting discrimination against both Negroes and Jews.

The campaign was begun by the New York branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The national organization was not consulted in advance, and so far has taken no stand on the issue.

L. Joseph Overton, president of the New York branch of the NAACP, organized the drive earlier this month. He denied he sought to oust established white salesmen.

Estimated Sales

An NAACP official estimated Harlem residents spend about $60 million a year on wine and liquor (New York liquor stores are not allowed to sell beer) and more than two million of this goes to salesmen in commissions. Overton said there are about 200 wholesale liquor salesmen selling to Harlem retail stores and of these only 72 are Negroes.

Overton said the aim of the drive is to gain a larger share of Harlem's business for Negro liquor salesmen. Similar campaigns may be started later in other fields where, he said, Negro salesmen were not getting a fair share, such as meat, dairy products, frozen foods and bakery goods.

Circulate In Harlem

Overton said the Negro salesmen would keep the money they earned on commissions circulating in the Harlem area, because they would spend it there, while white salesmen would spend it elsewhere.

A total of 71 retailers in the area have already agreed to send their wholesalers a form letter supplied by the NAACP's New York branch. It says they "will refuse to continue doing business with any wholesaler who will not send as their representative a Negro salesman."

Farmer Claims Low-Flying Plane Cuts Egg Production

Bridlington, England —(P)— An irate farmer went to law yesterday to get back the money he said a low-flying plane cost him in unlaid eggs and sedatives to calm his chickens.

Farmer Sidney Smith blamed an aircraft spraying crops. It flew over his farm from a neighboring potato patch last year, scattered the hens and left them in an excitable state.

Congressmen Ask Dam Named After McKay

Washington —(P)—Two members of congress who were politically opposed to Douglas McKay, former secretary of the interior who died last week want to name a dam in Oregon after him.

claimed, went down 3,273 eggs in two weeks. Then the plane came back, causing complete and utter panic, he testified.

"I had to dose them with sedatives," he said, "but even that didn't restore their egg-laying."

Smith's lawyer Stanley Taylor said: "The hens were outrageously disturbed without warning."

What Difference?

"I don't see what difference it would have made if they had warned the hens," Judge Norman Harper commented.

Smith claimed 88 pounds ($240.88) damages from the owners of the plane and the spraying contractors. He said that represented what he had lost in egg production and the cost of the sedatives.

Anti-Communists Boycott Sessions At Youth Conclave

Vienna, Austria —(P)— The Austrian communist party's newspaper charged today that "rats of the cold war" were trying to spoil the seventh world youth festival, now in its third day here.

The Daily Volksstimme attacked Austrian anti-communist youth and Vienna newspapers which have boycotted reports on the festival.

Meanwhile, rebel leaders in the bitterly feuding U.S. delegation claimed at least a temporary victory over a faction which they charged was "inclined to yield to Moscow dictation."

Heated Meeting

In a heated 2-hour meeting attended by 180 delegates, the Americans elected an 8-member steering committee from rival factions. These are the "New York group," which had been favored by the festival's communist organizers, and the "Chicago group." The Chicagoans charged that they had been locked out of discussion seminars.

The steering committee is composed of four each from the New York and Chicago factions, but the Chicagoans claimed they gained a 7-1 margin in that only one

Private Citizen Brings Traitor Charge Against Former Cuba President

Urrutia's Case Transferred to Cabinet, Castro Sits as Judge

Havana —(P)— A charge of treason brought by a private citizen against former President Manuel Urrutia was referred to premier Fidel Castro's cabinet last night. Supreme Court Judge Julio Garcera De Val signed an order transferring the case from the court to the cabinet.

The ruling puts Castro in the position of sitting as judge on the man he put in as the first president of the revolutionary government and then crushed.

Urrutia quit on July 17 after Castro accused him of near treason in a TV speech. Castro himself resigned as prime minister before launching his assault on Urrutia but was shouted back into office on Sunday at a giant celebration in Havana.

Urrutia since his resignation has been living at the suburban home of his brother-in-law, which is under heavy guard. His successor, President Osvaldo Dorticos, told newsmen several days ago Urrutia was free to go anywhere and that the government planned no legal action against him.

The charge of treason against the former president was brought by a Cuban lawyer, Raul Gomez Quintero, who said he was a member of Castro's revolutionary movement.

Judge Garcera Del Val ruled that the senate would ordinarily judge Urrutia, but the jurisdiction now rests with the cabinet under the revolutionary laws giving the cabinet legislative authority.

In an interview, meanwhile, Castro again attacked interests in the United States he accused of trying to wreck Cuba's revolution.

He criticized the inter-American foreign ministers meeting Aug. 8 in Chile to discuss Caribbean tensions. He said there are no tensions in the Caribbean and suggested the ministers consider instead hunger, poverty and underdevelopment in Latin America.

House Sends Holding Company Bill to Senate

Washington —(P)— A bill to curb expansion of holding companies in the field of savings and loan associations was passed yesterday by the house and sent to the senate.

It would prohibit holding companies from acquiring control of two or more savings and loan associations whose accounts are insured by the federal government. It would bar loans by insured associations to their parent holding companies.

However, the bill would not require holding companies to divest themselves of existing control of insured associations.

Man Can Find Refuge in Time Of His Sorrow

God Is Source of Sustenance, the
Rev. Pierson Says

Sorrow is an inevitable part of life, yet it can be an indirect source of strength by sending man to his God for refuge and sustenance, the Rev. C. J. Pierson, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, said in his Sunday sermon.

"From ancient times religious men have known sorrow and irreligious men have taken grief as a sign that there is no God," the pastor said.

Yet "often we must remind ourselves that tears are not proof there is no God. Tears prove our humanity, our sensitivity, and in them, perhaps more clearly than in our laughter, we may find out God."

Three Reactions
Man has three general reactions to this sorrow, the Rev. Mr. Pierson said, and the first of these is to escape. The author, said to be David, of the 55th Psalm stated this reaction: "Oh, that I had wings like a don! I would fly away and be at rest."

"There is, of course, no land of peace and rest. Wherever we go we take ourselves along, and we must deal with our disappointments and our defeats and our sorrows," the pastor continued.

"David quickly dismisses the temptation to run away. Instead he turns to another and somewhat more realistic expedient; he asks God to destroy the oppressor who troubles him: 'Destroy their plans, O Lord. Confuse their tongues.'"

"This, it may be observed, is little preferable to the wish to escape. It may even be called evasive, lazy, irresponsible, unheroic," but "it still remains a reaction to the battle that is familiar to all normal spiritual experience. . . . "God does not sweep the battlefield clear of the foe because, sorely beset, we ask him to."

Burdening God
The third reaction listed by the pastor was stated by David: "Cast your burden on the Lord and he will sustain you: He will never permit the righteous to be moved." Yet God expects man to take more of the responsibility, the Rev. Mr. Pierson said. "The God who invites us to cast our burdens upon Him also expects us to carry our own burdens and even to bear one another's burdens. We aren't given wings by which we can fly away from trouble and sorrow, and we aren't granted the assurance that God will destroy the enemy or remove the burden." Prayer is not an escape mechanism, but a search for resources with which to face reality. The man who prays in time of sorrow is not engaged in flight but is nurturing faith, he said.

Featured Actress in 'Raisin in the Sun' Explains Future Goal

New York — Claudia McNeil, featured actress in "A Raisin in the Sun," believes in always having a future goal in sight. Her role in the hit play and its movie version will have her busy for several years, but Miss McNeil has set her sights on Shakespeare. "I want most of all to play the nurse in 'Romeo and Juliet,'" she says. "But I want to play it in London, not here."

Red Star Decides To Build School

Red Star School district, town of Harrison, Calumet county, voted 39 to 24 Monday night to build on the present school site.

The vote culminated a long series of meetings beginning in April when Red Star residents began investigating three alternatives to relieve the load on its overflowing 1-room school, built in 1917. Voters chose building over seeking to consolidate with Appleton or Sherwood.

The district also authorized borrowing money to build a 2 to 4-room school, using the maximum borrowing figure of $89,000 for construction and land acquisition. State officials have recommended the school purchase four to nine additional acres.

After the motion to build was submitted by Daniel G. Squier, Gerard H. Van Hoof, Little Chute lawyer retained by the school board, said that voters should not consider the motion because they did not have enough information.

"You don't know whether you can get the property," he said. Van Hoof has been trying to obtain options on several pieces of property for more than a week, and has been able to obtain one option.

Van Hoof added, "There is no hurry to get the job done." Building proponents disagreed. They said the recently-passed bill requiring all state lands to be a part of a high school district would force them to act quickly.

Joseph Schimmers, a white-bearded man who said he lived in the district all his life, asked, "Why should us old-time taxpayers pay for this?" He said the school would force taxes to skyrocket. He advocated a split school day to serve all children with the present building.

"You could divide them into shifts and hire one or two extra teachers," he said.

Robert Marsh used figures to show the tax rate would go up to $16.50, about $4 per thousand over the 1958-59 levy. Marsh said he figured in maximum debt retirement, teachers, added school costs and other variables.

Aug. 10 Meeting
Robert Wright, meeting chairman, was told to appoint another building committee to obtain options and building plans. The district will hold an adjourned meeting at 8 p. m. Aug. 10 to hear the committee's report.

In other business, Marsh was elected treasurer, replacing Mrs. Orville Johann, wife of the secretary.

Voters agreed to get a written contract with the bus line to assure adequate service, and approved a $12,000 tentative budget for next year.

Parents Can Stop Upsurge of Polio

The people of the United States now are on the way toward the worst polio year since the Salk vaccine was produced in 1955. The Public Health Service report shows that there were 174 cases of polio reported during the week ending July 4 and 105 were paralytic. There were 179 cases, of which 111 were paralytic, in the week ending July 11. The Public Health Service expects regular increases in the weeks ahead unless drastic action is taken to get Salk vaccine to children who have not received the full course of treatment.

There no longer can be any doubt about the effectiveness of Salk vaccine. The Public Health Service report shows that in 1955 there were 4,111 cases during the first 27 weeks of the year. Of those 1,652 were known to be paralytic. In the first 27 weeks of this year polio cases totaled 1,208, of which 691 were paralytic. Those figures are to be compared with 754 cases for the same period last year of which 385 were paralytic. It is plain for all to see that with the introduction of the Salk vaccine in 1955 the people received it eagerly and vaccinations were widespread. There was a decided drop in the polio cases and people, feeling safe again, neglected to treat the other younger children with polio vaccine or to carry on with the full course of three shots. The result is that the number of cases of polio began to increase and it now is possible to predict that we will be right back where we started soon unless use of vaccine is resumed.

Wisconsin has been fortunate in the use of the polio vaccine. The State Health Department recently pointed to a remarkable decline in polio since the introduction of Salk vaccine in the state. There were only 57 cases of polio and 3 deaths reported in the state in 1958, which figures are to be compared with 1,544 cases and 166 deaths in 1955.

Wisconsin's fine record is due unquestionably to the intense promotion work on the use of vaccine carried on by the State Health Department and by the various local health units. However, we are a long way from having a 100 per cent record and because the way to freedom from polio is so clearly pointed out to us by the records of the state and national health departments we will be guilty of a great folly if we do not move to wipe out polio entirely.

Political Contributions—What They Mean

A mournful editorial spokesman for the Democratic party in Wisconsin noticed the other day that the state Republican party had received $163,369 for campaign funds since the 1958 election while the Democratic party had received $70,358 or less than half that received by its competitor. The spokesman went on to claim that contributions are proof that the Republican party in both state and nation is a political medium of the privileged classes while a greater measure of regard for the public interest has been found in the Democratic party.

Those words were scarcely cold before the Congressional Quarterly, an unpartisan organization, reported that for the first time in ten years Democrats are getting more campaign contributions than the Republicans. The Quarterly takes its figures from the clerk of the House of Representatives which reports on political committees of both major parties, organized labor and independent groups.

This report covers the period from January through May of this year which is practically the same period covered in the Madison report on state parties. The Washington report shows that twice as much money has gone into organized labor's political treasury in the past five months of 1959 as in a comparable period of 1957 which was the last previous non-election year. Five Democratic committees reported total receipts of $764,701. Ten Republican organizations reported receipts of $581,828. The national Democratic committee alone received $741,799 while its rival Republican national committee received only $333,222. The Quarterly notes also that increased finances coming into the labor committees also will help the Democrats in the future for labor unions have given more than 90 per cent of their campaign contributions to Democrats in the recent past.

Do the Democrats in Washington and elsewhere around the nation regard the increased financial help as a sign that the Democratic party is becoming the party of "the privileged classes?" Not at all. The Democrats believe the additional income is due to "the revival of optimism over Democratic chances for victory in 1960." The Democratic National committee spokesman says, "The sweeping Democratic victory in 1958 — like Mr. Truman's upset win in 1948 — has prried open a lot of closed pocketbooks."

Here are two very interesting interpretations of the meaning of campaign contributions to political parties. And it is pretty clear that the interpretation depends entirely upon whose party gets the contributions.

Jet Age Postal Service

Hearings are under way in Washington on legislation which would permit the Post Office department to use air transportation for the movement of first class and other mail when surface transportation is impractical.

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) and chairman of the senate post office subcommittee believes this bill if enacted would be "a tremendous step forward in achieving faster and more efficient postal service for the people of the United States." Many people long have believed that the Post Office department should use the best transportation available in moving mail of any kind. It often has been pointed out that the post office uses dog teams, automobiles, railway trains, steamships, motorboats, bicycles and a great variety of other means of transporting mail but mail sent by airplane is limited to that carrying special postage.

The development of the airplane and the extensive use of the automobile in transporting passengers has eliminated a great many passenger trains which ordinarily would carry mail. Postmaster Gen. Summerfield points out that in recent years thousands of mail carrying passenger trains have been discontinued and service to thousands of communities has been eliminated as a result. He says that of 10,000 such trains which were used in the movement of mail 30 years ago only about 2,200 are operating today. The Post Office department has made an effort to replace this service by the use of highway trucks but it has been unable to fill the gap completely. It now is asking for permission to use air transportation to maintain dependable inter-city mail service.

Sen. Monroney says that the United States has lagged far behind other countries in the use of air transportation for ordinary mail. He says the bill now under consideration was proposed by the Post Office department after a long period of experiment which has satisfied it as to the advantage of air transportation.

The Post Office department always has been hampered by red tape but it has nevertheless performed a very great service to the people of the United States and it has continued to grow in spite of all the handicaps that are incidental to federal operation. As a matter of fact, the mail system now appears to be at one of its high points of expansion. Since 1940 the mail volume has increased by 32.4 billion pieces which the postmaster general says is an increase of 117 per cent. Thus the demand for fast, reliable transportation between cities is far greater than ever before and is taxing its present facilities to the limit. The postmaster general fears that a period of deterioration of service to the public is inevitable for letter mail particularly unless greater use of air transportation is authorized.

Grain Woes Endanger Entire Farm Program

Our government owns 1,353,000,000 bushels of wheat. This is enough to supply our needs at home and abroad for 14 years. By this time tomorrow it will cost another million dollars to store our present government-owned stocks of this agricultural commodity. If the wheat problem is not soon solved, the taxpayers and the consumers will rise up in revolt and the whole farm program will be jeopardized. Presently wheat is being supported at $1.77 a bushel. The only action congress has taken was to raise the price support on wheat to $2.13 a bushel if farmers would cut their acreage by 25 per cent. Acreage controls have not worked. The higher price supports will only encourage the large wheat farmers to increase their yields per acre.

When stringent controls were placed on the 1958 crop, wheat farmers were able to increase their average yield per seeded acre as compared with the 1957 crop from 19.1 bushels to 25.9 bushels. Republican efforts to bring the wheat support program in line with the recommendations of the president for a more realistic support level and for removal of loopholes in the acreage restrictions were defeated by the huge Democratic majorities in the congress. The wheat bill which the president fortunately vetoed would have added to our wheat woes rather than helped. A control program with even

Marks 35 Misstatements of Fact In Rovere Book About McCarthy

Editor, Post-Crescent:

As an old and close friend of the late Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, I hastened to read the just published book Senator Joe McCarthy by Richard H. Rovere. Mr. Rovere, former Associate Editor of the New Masses and proponent of the Hitler-Stalin pact, claims to have known the late Senator. Just why he hates him so remains unexplained.

In this book of 271 pages, in which McCarthy is called a liar (without proof) on almost every page, I counted and marked 35 misstatements of fact known to me, plus many more I suspect are inaccurate.

In an article in The Reporter Magazine of July 21, 1953, Rovere told how Schine met Cohn and McCarthy. I wrote him at the time and copied his paragraph, inserting in parenthesis corrections of each misstatement of his. As returned to him, his paragraph read:

"The story is that last fall a Rabbi Schultz of Yonkers, New York (Rabbi Schultz is of Manhattan), who runs an organization called the Jewish League Against Communism (The American Jewish League Against Communism Inc.) sought out the hospitality of the Gulf Stream Hotel (which he has never seen or been in), another Schine Hotel (?) in Miami Beach (which city Rabbi Schultz has never visited to this day) found Definition of Communism (which he has never read and never found in any room) in his room, was stunned by its depth of understanding (via osmosis a la Rovere), promptly sought out the author (possibly while sleep walking) and introduced him to Roy Cohn (which he has never done)."

Now in his new book Rovere tells the same story in a new and different version (on page 194) as follows:

"It was said to have been a copy found under a room-service menu in a hotel in Coral Gables or some such place that brought Schine and Cohn and McCarthy together. A guest in the hotel read the pamphlet, was struck by its insights, sought out its author, introduced

Parties Prepare to Spend Heavily in '60

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Short shots in state politics:

Both parties will spend more money and time on state legislative campaigns next year than in a generation. Republicans will spare nothing to keep their vote power in the legislature, even if their campaign for the governorship appears difficult, as it may well be. Democrats similarly will recognize that their state election victories will be hollow ones unless they can control both houses of the legislature.

Wyngaard

There is a story being told in Democratic politics that a private poll arranged by the Kennedy organization, while it showed the Massachusetts senator leading in support in this state for the Democratic nomination, was not decisive enough to make a Wisconsin test in the presidential primary election appear worth the risk.

Some top labor organization spokesmen are predicting that George Haberman of the Wisconsin AFL-CIO will be challenged for the presidency of the organization at its 1960 convention.

Haberman has had no real challenge for the last decade of his leadership of the big union.

DEMOCRATS WANDER

These dispatches sometimes have reverse effects, it appears. About the time last week that there was an observation here about the lack of Democratic "mavericks" in the legislature, some Democrats started wandering away on their own signals, in both houses of the legislature, to the annoyance of their quarters-backs.

Friends of Sen. Alexander Wiley, the Wisconsin Republican party's most durable politician, acknowledge that some of his recent stirrings are strongly suggestive of preparations for his reelection campaign.

The senator is getting older, and his present term doesn't expire until 1962, but there is very little doubt that he has his eye upon the campaign dates of that year.

Many legislators and gallery observers are commenting upon the "new" Sen. Henry Maier, quarterback of the state senate Democratic minority. Once he was tense, sensitive, easily provoked to anger. This year he is calm and more friendly — and also more effective on his feet. Colleagues are responding warmly, where once they were skeptical.

COOL TO OVERTURES

Gov. Nelson reportedly has responded coolly to overtures of legislators for appointment to state administrative jobs.

Among the Democratic lawmakers who sometimes have mused about the pleasures of fulltime office holding is Robert Huber of West Allis, the speaker pro tem of the assembly.

A morsel for those who collect politicians' malapropisms was contributed by an angry lobbyist the other day when he lost a round in the state assembly.

"The trouble with that house," he allowed, "is that it is filled with ramble-rousers."

Wisconsin Republican friends are wondering worriedly about the delay in the appointment to a federal judgeship of James R. Duffee of the Civil Aeronautics board, as reliably reported cleared and scheduled a couple of months ago.

City Provides Phone Number For Emergency

From the Buffalo Evening News

The city of Winnipeg, Alberta, has just introduced an emergency service that would be useful in Buffalo or anywhere else. It is a telephone answering service which assures an appropriate response to any distress call.

Dial 999 and you are connected with switchboard operators, on duty 24 hours a day, relay the call to the proper department, bring the fire department, police, or a doctor as the need indicates. It is true that the Buffalo telephone book reserves space inside the cover to write down the number to call for fire or police help, but who bothers to look up the numbers and write them down? Anybody can remember 999 or another equally simple. Most European cities have such a service. We could borrow the idea profitably.

Don't Need Spare, Tire Makers Say; Drivers Want It

From the Scranton Times

"The customer is always right." That old saw of the merchandising business has been recognized and accepted by the nation's leading automobile tire manufacturers who for some reason have been endeavoring to devise some way of eliminating the spare tire from our cars.

The tiremakers argue that punctures are becoming fewer with the type of equipment now in use. Because of this, they believe, there is no real need for the average motorist to carry a spare. But they concede the spare is with us to stay for one very good reason — the car owner insists on having one. The tire manufacturers feel that this insistence is psychological, but who are they to say their customers nay? More than that, however, they haven't explained what advantage there would be to themselves or the motorist if the spare was eliminated.

Konemic Lodge Installs Officers

79 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of July 31, 1880.

Installation of officers of Konemic lodge, I. O. O. F. took place on Monday evening, there being a large attendance of Odd Fellows. Sam Ryan, past grand master, officiated as installing officer.

The following is a list of officers for the current term: Humphrey Pierce, N. G.; A. B. Randall, V. G.; A. L. Williams, R. S.; M. D. McGrath, W.; J. G. Morgan, treasurer; John Bottensek, C.; G. C. Dickinson, I. G.; W. W. Wilson, O. G.; O. A. Byrns, R. S. N. G.; J. W. Bedell, L. S. N. G.; Charles Betz, R. S. V. G.; M. F. Barteau, L. S. V. G.; A. J. Maxwell, R. S. S.; A. F. Cole, L. S. S.

On Tuesday next, district Deputy W. W. Wilson of this city, will re-institute Hortonia lodge No. 114, which has lain dormant for many years. It is expected that a passenger coach will be attached to the train which leaves Appleton on the Milwaukee Lake Shore and Western Railroad, arriving in Hortonville at 3 p.m. and returning in the early morning.

Tuesday, July 24, 1934

Jack Courtney and Robert and James Bailey won honors in a swimming meet held Sunday as part of visitors' day program at the YMCA Camp Onaway at the Wisconsin Veterans' home.

Mrs. William Buchanan and Miss Betty Buchanan won with a low net of 27 in the 2-ball foursome played at North Shore Country club.

Kaukauna's new postoffice came a step nearer to being a reality when bids were opened for sites in the office of Adolph R. Mill, postmaster. The bids were opened by Postmaster Mill and James E. Bamberry, government engineer.

Carl Smith of Appleton, who was to supervise the work on the evaluation of property in Kaukauna during the next few months, was in Kaukauna making preliminary plans for the work.

George J. Schneider, Appleton, candidate for congress in the eighth congressional district on the new Progressive ticket, was re-elected a member of the executive board of the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor.

rector, said that morning. Van Alphen has a first aid kit and flags in his automobile and is prepared to stop and assist at any accident.

Dr. Guy Carlson and Ed Marcelus led the Riverview Country club blind bogey tournament winners with 79's according to Jake Mathews, club professional.

Mrs. H. A. DeBauer and Mrs. David Smith were high scorers with 110's points to lead in the north and south division of the American Contract Bridge tournament at the Elks club.

Louis Selle, Neenah, was elected chairman of the Selle family at the annual reunion Sunday at Telulah park. Adolph Selle, Dale, was elected treasurer, and William Selle, Jr., Appleton, secretary.

the amount congress previously had authorized.

The dual operation put the committee in a position to boast an overall cut of $1,243,495,000, an appealing figure to Democrats seeking a record for budget-cutting. But there remained the question how much of the claim would stand up after action by the senate, which frequently is more liberal with foreign aid

Young Soldier Found Guilty

Faces Sentence For Murder At Ft. Monmouth

Fl. Sill, Okla. —A young soldier convicted of murder learns today just how bleak his future is — death or life imprisonment.

It took the 8-officer army court less than an hour Monday to convict Pvt. Thompson, 19, Stockton Springs, Me., of bludgeoning to death Specialist John A. Norris, 23, of St. Pauls, N.C.

Norris was killed last Feb. 20 at his Ft. Monmouth, N. J., barracks.

More Testimony

Under military procedure the court was to hear testimony today about Thompson's character, and background before deciding his penalty.

The slender youth with the high-pitched voice stared impassively as the verdict was read. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon C. Thompson, were downcast, but calm.

Thompson's only show of emotion during the 10-day trial was his tear-punctuated testimony Friday and Saturday.

He claimed he beat Norris with a window stay after the army cook tried to take $500 from him at gunpoint.

Thompson was arrested for reckless driving at Chickasha, Okla., after an accident near there while en route to Ft. Sill in early March.

Clothing found near the accident scene was identified as Norris' and Thompson told officers how to find Norris' body in a snowbank at Sandy Point, Me.

Bear Attacks Young Hunter, Youth May Lose Eyesight

Juneau, Alaska — A teenaged sharpshooter fired at a charging bear Monday, but the animal knocked his rifle aside and clawed him so severely a doctor said he would be blind.

Lee Hagmeier, 17, of Auke Bay, Alaska, was reported in fair condition at a Juneau hospital later after two hours of surgery. A doctor said the bear slashed the boy's optic nerves.

Route Wasn't Recommended By Auto Club

Columbus, Ohio — Taking a route definitely not recommended by the Columbus Automobile club, a woman driver bounced her car over the curb, across the sidewalk and through the club's plate glass window Monday.

The driver, Mrs. Manfred Linick, had visited the club a few minutes earlier for travel information and then picked up her husband. He said he believes the car veered "when the right wheel froze."

There are several consultations. The Linicks' insurance agent was walking nearby when the accident happened. And the club's general manager, Russell Campbell, said he had been discussing the need for remodeling the front only a couple hours earlier.

The renovation begins today. Campbell said it will not be a drive-in.

4 Teenagers Saved When Boat Flips

Man Pulls Them From Michigan Waters Soon After

Milwaukee — Four teenagers tossed into Lake Michigan Monday when a wave flipped their boat were pulled out in 45 minutes and taken to safety in a 15-foot boat that held 12 persons, five of them children, when it reached shore.

Two boys had hung onto the overturned craft and two girls had taken available life preservers and were attempting to swim a mile to shore when pulled out.

Rescue Boat

Piloting the rescue boat was Elmwood Kasch of South Milwaukee who was attracted by "something shiny" while taking his wife and three children and another woman and two children for a ride. The boat has a 30 horsepower motor.

The shiny object was the overturned boat. Clinging to it were Roy Lange, 17, of Cudahy, and John Miller, 17, of Kenosha. They said their companions, Gay Brewer, 16, and Diane Parker, 15, of Cudahy, had taken life preserver cushions and started for shore.

Found Girls

"I found the girls within a couple of minutes," said

Kasch. "They were exhausted and probably wouldn't have made it swimming."

Police were on the beach after being called by swimmers who heard shouts for help. The youngsters were treated at a hospital for exposure and released.

Gay still had her purse, containing $2.

"It was the first thing I thought of when we went over," she said.

Two Boys Held For Burglary At State Fair

Milwaukee — The $9,000 burglary of a concessionaire's living quarters at State Fair Park was solved Monday with the arrest of two boys trying to steal money from a south side department store cash register, police said today.

Questioning of the youngsters led to their admission that they broke into the living quarters of Erving Mazurek last Monday.

Park police furnished officers with a list of the loot, which included a diamond ring worth $6,000, a diamond brooch valued at $2,100, a wedding ring, radio, man's wrist watch and currency.

All the goods except the brooch and $40 in cash was recovered in the boys' homes, officers said. The youths were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Injured Workers Due for Higher Compensation

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — Persons who are injured in the course of their employment will be eligible for higher compensation from their employers or their underwriters under legislation approved by the senate and assembly in their final days. The lawmakers followed the recommendations of a labor-management advisory committee in extending maximum payments for temporary disability and permanent total disability and death from $49 a week to $54. The increase is made possible by increasing the weekly earnings under which benefits are computed to $77.14. Partial Disability At the same time the legislature made a similar adjustment for the computation of benefits for permanent partial disability which allows an increase in maximum payments from $37 to $40. Another important section of the new legislation will increase the benefit period for total occupational deafness from 180 to 216 weeks. Other Bills Employers successfully resisted in the senate, after losing the issue in the lower house, a bill that would have increased the benefits for occupational deafness to such an extent that even some of the labor spokesmen before the legislature expressed concern about the cost liability for Wisconsin business. The legislature also defeated bills that would have provided automatic workmen's compensation liability in undulant fever cases, and permitted injured employees to call for the services of chiropractors under the compensation act. The latter proposal, a major legislative objective of the chiropractors, again provided a prolonged political contest with organized medicine. As in past years, the bill was defeated in the senate after having won substantial approval in the assembly.

School Construction Subject of Meeting

Poy Sippl—School construction plans will be discussed at a meeting of the East Wauwata Union High school district at the grade school at 8:30 p.m. Friday. Harold Renner, Pine River, was elected a director at the district's annual meeting. He replaces Clarence Zabel, who resigned. Re-elected were Clerk Anthony Roemer, Jr. and Treasurer Leonard Sattler. Other directors are Lester Koehler, Poy Sippl, and Norman Schoenick, West Bloomfield.

Vice President Richard Nixon gestures as he talks with workers at a heavy machine industry plant in Leningrad, Russia. Next on Nixon's visit to the USSR will be a tour of Siberian industrial cities.

Nixon May Advocate Khrushchev U. S. Visit

Meanwhile, authorities familiar with Nixon's views reported he believed his tour thus far has surpassed his expectations after a slow, rather cool welcome in Moscow.

The crowds who welcomed him in Leningrad were about three times as large as those in Moscow. The turnout at Novosibirsk surpassed the fondest hopes of American aides accompanying him on the visit.

Nixon passed hundreds of 1-room log cabins, some still under construction, on the 15-mile trip from the airport. The area resembles in some ways the frontier west.

When he arrived, Nixon found many of the women wearing babushkas — or handkerchiefs — over their heads and men with blue tams and work clothes applauding him.

Several times he stopped to shake hands with youngsters, including some girls.

Among Nixon's advisers meanwhile, Quebec was being mentioned as a possible site for a summit conference, if and when one is agreed to.

Their reasoning was that Khrushchev might go on to

All Want Peace

The vice president said Premier Khrushchev and other Soviet leaders had assured him of their desire to achieve this aim. He said the Americans are equally willing to achieve friendship and peace through negotiations.

"Where there is a will, there is a way," he said. Nixon and Rickover, father of America's atomic submarines, collided with Soviet restrictions yesterday as they toured the 16,000-ton Lenin near completion in Leningrad.

Rickover protested they were getting a run-around because they were allowed only a long range look at the three reactors that will power the ship. He said Soviet First Deputy Premier Frol R. Kozlov, on his visit to the United States, had been given a close look at American atomic in-any substantial change in the position of either party." Finnegan conferred with the union's representatives and "we answered every question he asked."

"I want to see the insides," demanded Rickover. Nixon backed him up. The shipyard master refused but was overruled by high-ship Soviet officials. Rickover then made a 2-hour inspection of "everything I wanted to see." The reactors themselves were inactive.

steel industry leaders this year of the new contract. The morning at the Park Lane hotel.

The mediator was to meet this afternoon with McDonald. There was no immediate plan for joint talks between management and industry representatives.

The situation "doesn't look good," Finnegan said. The strike threat in the aluminum industry is against the Big Three — the Aluminum Company of America (Alcoa), the Reynolds Metals Company and the Kaiser Aluminum & Chemical Corporation.

Contract negotiations in the aluminum industry are continuing here with the help of federal mediators, but no progress toward agreement has been reported.

The Big Three aluminum producers — like the major steel companies — have rejected a United Steelworkers' demand for a wage increase of 15 cents an hour in each steel companies, like the Ormet Corporation, the fourth big aluminum producer with a contract with the Steelworkers union expiring Friday, has not answered the union's demand formally. But Ormet, which is owned jointly by the Olin Mathieson Chemical Corporation and Reynolds Copper and Brass, Inc., is expected to go along with the union's proposals.

A strike against the Big Three and Ormet would affect 30,000 workers and close about 57 per cent of the nation's primary aluminum production.

McDonald said he had given orders to his union for an orderly shutdown of the aluminum mills if negotiations fail.

An aluminum industry spokesman said an orderly

Brazilians Will Expel Financier

New York Man Faces Charges Of Stealing Stock

Rio De Janeiro — Brazil intends to expel Lowell M. Birrell on charges the New York lawyer-financier entered the country on a false passport, a police official said yesterday.

But Birrell's counsel indicated to newsmen Birrell would fight being sent back to the United States, where he faces charges of stealing stock worth $14 million.

The United States and Brazil have no extradition treaty, which would require Brazil to send the wanted man home to face the fraud charges.

Fernando Bastos Ribeiro, chief of the Brazilian police frauds division, said he was not interested in the indictment Birrell faces in New York.

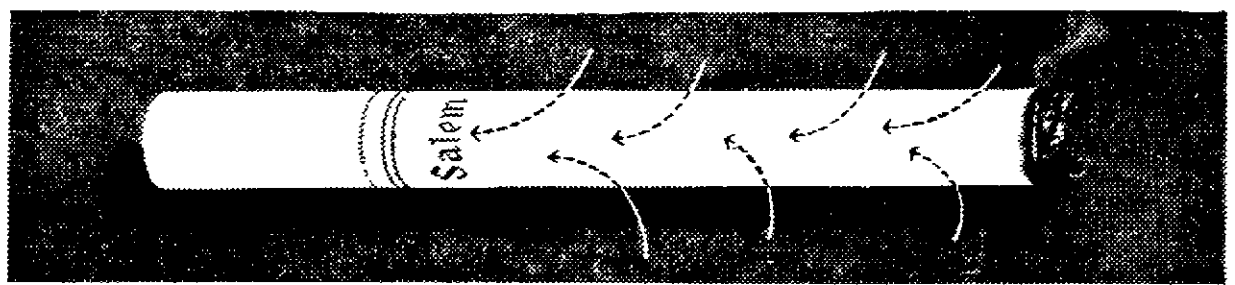

"We know he entered Brazil on a false passport," Ribeiro said. "We are going to proceed against him on that charge and expel him from the country."

Birrell's attorney, Jorge Chaloupe Sobrinho, told newsmen the New Yorker is willing to go back to the United States only if U.S. authorities can prove to Brazilian officials that his client stole the stocks.

Birrell arrested here five days ago, is being held in Rio jail.

Italy Shows Smart Sportswear

Striking Sports Ensembles were shown in Florence, Italy, by the ATYS fashion house of Turin. At left is a smart but functional ski outfit of red wool and nylon stretch material topped with a loose jersey of handwoven black wool bordered with white, gold and silver stripes. In the center is an after-ski cos-

Mrs. Post Says Reader Was Right

BY EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: The other day while my wife was upstairs, the doorbell rang and I answered it. It was a young woman I had never seen before. She asked to see my wife. I thought she might be soliciting for something so I did not ask her in. I called my wife and told her that there was someone to see her. When my wife saw her she recognized her immediately and asked her to come in. It turned out that she was an old school mate of my wife's. Later my wife reprimanded me for not asking her in and said that I was very rude to leave a visitor standing in the doorway. I would like to know if I was wrong, and also the correct way to handle a situation of this sort.

Answer: You were right since the young lady neglected to tell you that she was an old friend of your wife's.

Thanks for Presents

Dear Mrs. Post: I sent a wedding present to a bride and after not hearing from her for five weeks, asked a member of her family if the gift had been received. I was told that it had been and I was also informed that Emily Post said a bride had as long as six months in which to write thank-you notes. Is this true? I can't believe that you have given such advice.

Answer: I have never given any such advice. A bride should acknowledge wedding presents as soon as she can.

Must Give Shower?

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been asked to be the maid of honor at a friend's wedding. I am told that it is the duty of the attendant of honor to give a shower for the bride-to-be. Is this true? I hadn't planned on giving one but want to do what is expected of me.

Answer: If she can, she very often does give a shower for the bride. But it is certainly not an obligation on her part to give such a party unless she wants to.

gold and silver embroidery, lame, jet beading and even feathered hemlines added to the swank.

Typical of the super-luxury air was a sable-collared gold lame raincoat over a gold sheath. A blonde velvet sheath sported a big pastel pink collar all-over gold and silver embroidery. A jet-embroidered black tulle dance dress flounced an ostrich feather hem.

By comparison, Mme. Manguin was quiet as a mouse, with classic tailored suits, and coats with shirt-waist dresses.

Manguin featured a bow and arrow line with wide, sloping shoulders and batwing sleeves making the bow. The silhouette was drawn down to a narrow hem. Skirts fell about three inches below the knee. Favorite colors included somber brown, greys and beiges.

Manguin's suits featured mid-hip jackets and semi-fitted waists with false vest fronts that gave a two-tiered effect.

Paris Openings Feature Longer Hemlines, Woodsy Fall Colors

BY NADEANE WALKER

Paris — (U) — A sculptured spiral line running heavily to tunics and wasp waists was the curtain raiser at the House of Gres for the annual showings of French fall and winter fashions.

Skirts were at the top of the calf. Colors initiated the sculptor's materials, from wood browns and greys to bronze green.

Reversible coats were of heavy rustic tweed or mohair. Day dresses were almost wasp-waisted and with cinched belts two to four inches wide.

Gres' forte has always been drapery and she uses it this time to wrap the figure in sculptured folds.

The new, wider shoulder gets its width, not from padding, but from large armholes and big tube sleeves.

Leather and wool are used together to make suit jackets and blouses. Jackets hit mid-hip and are usually tightly belted. They are sometimes lined with shaggy mohair and teamed with heavy mohair brouses.

Coats are barrels—the designer calls them magnet shaped—with big Pilgrim collars. Belted tunic coats leave just about two inches of contrasting dress showing at the hem. Cuff and necklines are lined with dress material.

Jersey Costumes Classic jersey dresses have soft gathers on the skirts and gathered-in sleeves and the audience still likes them.

Lots of coats have three-fourths batwing sleeves to give them cape-like lines. They are worn over skirt and blouses or dresses to match their lining. Some have scarf-tied collars.

For after dark, necklines are called "handle or arrow" shaped and as the designer says, "do not fear any boldness."

Brighter colors like cherry, lemon, turquoise and absinth come in for afternoon, and pink is an evening favorite.

Striking color contrasts show up for late day and cocktail fashions. A coppery-black satin sheath had a long panel in bright orange draped over one side to the hem, and a mulberry satin tunic was worn over a hobbletight gold lame sheath skirt.

A grey dress had lemon cuffs and belt, and a full red tunic was worn over a black dinner dress with the lowest of low "U" necks.

Gold-bordered chiffon saris fastened on the shoulder over long chiffon evening dresses. Some mid-calf formal sheaths had a wide diagonal panel in contrasting color flowing from the shoulder and tucked into the hem. A halter bodice in black velvet had the armholes hollowed out behind for an interesting new back decoration.

A hippy look with slightly longer skirts and jackets and normal waistlines emerged from the Goma show at lunchtime.

Backs were bare, while bosoms were demurely covered in many cases, an example called "Lolita" was a mauve dress in soft wool with high round neck and saucy pouf drapes across the hip.

Thieves collars stood up to the nose on coats and jackets. Black was king of the color range with browns, beiges and greys relieved by some mulberry and royal blue.

Cape collars shared honors

with tunics and false tunic effects.

It looks as though women will be able to turn their coats and be in style this winter. Many reversible two-color models are shown, some in wool on one side and fur on the other.

Slinky black dresses have let-down collars plunged in a "V" back and front. Stand-off necklines are filled in with beads.

Goma has nippy-waisted redingotes with flowering skirts, suits with straight un-waisted jackets and others with tight belts.

Blue-black satin, lame, brocade and lace make many of the dinner dresses. The Houses of Bugnard and Manguin lured buyers to early shows last night.

Longer Hemlines What they saw were slightly longer hemlines — a few inches below the knee — and normal waistlines. Sober colors range from brown and beige to gray and black for day wear.

Bob Bugnard, who makes clothes in France for sale in America only, plunged necklines and laid the luxury on thick. An example was a black taffeta cocktail number with reckless neckline. Title: The Adultress.

Bugnard's day dresses and suits are slim but not slinky. Unpressed skirt folds, caught in by a wide belt, provide plenty of room for walking.

Capes staged a comeback over dresses and as a substitute for suit jackets. Sable collars, mink bosoms, panther-lined sleeves, and a full red tunic was worn over a black dinner dress with the lowest of low "U" necks.

Backs were bare, while bosoms were demurely covered in many cases, an example called "Lolita" was a mauve dress in soft wool with high round neck and saucy pouf drapes across the hip.

Thieves collars stood up to the nose on coats and jackets.

Black was king of the color range with browns, beiges and greys relieved by some mulberry and royal blue.

Cape collars shared honors

with tunics and false tunic effects.

It looks as though women will be able to turn their coats and be in style this winter.

Many reversible two-color models are shown, some in wool on one side and fur on the other.

Slinky black dresses have let-down collars plunged in a "V" back and front.

Stand-off necklines are filled in with beads.

Blue-black satin, lame, brocade and lace make many of the dinner dresses.

The Houses of Bugnard and Manguin lured buyers to early shows last night.

Longer Hemlines What they saw were slightly longer hemlines — a few inches below the knee — and normal waistlines.

Sober colors range from brown and beige to gray and black for day wear.

Bob Bugnard, who makes clothes in France for sale in America only, plunged necklines and laid the luxury on thick.

An example was a black taffeta cocktail number with reckless neckline. Title: The Adultress.

Bugnard's day dresses and suits are slim but not slinky.

Unpressed skirt folds, caught in by a wide belt, provide plenty of room for walking.

Capes staged a comeback over dresses and as a substitute for suit jackets.

Sable collars, mink bosoms, panther-lined sleeves, and a full red tunic was worn over a black dinner dress with the lowest of low "U" necks.

Gold-bordered chiffon saris fastened on the shoulder over long chiffon evening dresses.

Some mid-calf formal sheaths had a wide diagonal panel in contrasting color flowing from the shoulder and tucked into the hem.

A halter bodice in black velvet had the armholes hollowed out behind for an interesting new back decoration.

A hippy look with slightly longer skirts and jackets and normal waistlines emerged from the Goma show at lunchtime.

Be prepared for young visitors by keeping an old suitcase packed with discarded jewelry, veils, both men and women's pocketbooks and hats and other grown up articles the kiddies can play with.

Miss Donna Mae Roehm is eastbound into the English channel aboard the M. S. Italia for a vacation tour of the continent. Miss Roehm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Roehm, 1735 N. Morrison street, is a teacher in the Wausau public schools.

Top Hat Dance Club
Lists Year's Program

The year's schedules of parties and dances has been announced by officers of the Top Hat Dance club. They are Mr. and Mrs. Tony Kuehmstedt, presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Mylan Sinclair, vice presidents; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Orison, secretaries, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Steinberg, treasurers.

Members of the board of directors are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ertl, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Collar and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Voissen. An informal dance will be held Sept. 26 at the Conway hotel preceded by a 7:30 p.m. get-acquainted party. Co-chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Bart Hammond and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferron.

Serving on the committee will be Dr. and Mrs. William Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gensler, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Ernst, Mr. and Mrs. Robert White, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Grant, Dr. and Mrs. Frank Wright, Dr. and Mrs. Neil Brahe, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Long, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Halverson, Mr. and Mrs. John Peckham and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller.

BDM Party Butte des Morts Golf club will be the setting for a semi-formal dinner dance Nov. 17. A social hour will precede the 8 p.m. dinner and a local orchestra will play dance music from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Assisting co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brauer will be Mr. and Mrs. William Cherkasky, Mr. and Mrs. William Garvey, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Faas, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Menning, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Griesbach, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sauter, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Foltz, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Utschig, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hass, Mr. and Mrs. John Otto and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Uehling.

On Feb. 6 the Top Hat group will hold an informal dance at the Menasha Elks club. A social hour will begin at 7:30 p.m. and dancing will follow from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Arrangements will be under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Katura and Mr. and Mrs. Wilard Smith.

Serving on the committee will be Mr. and Mrs. Robert Chase, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Frederickson, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Krueger, Mr. and Mrs. Dutch Bleier, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Sweet, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pettigrew, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harper, Mr. and Mrs. John Spalding and Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson.

Starching Tip
Cuts Ironing
Time in Half

You can save time if when laundering ruffled curtains, you starch only the ruffles and the tie backs. You will find the curtains can be ironed in about half the time, will have a crisp fresh look and last longer.

Visits Parents

Mr. and Mrs. Milton A. Herberg were visited for a week by their son, Major John A. Herberg, his wife and three children. The major and his family left Appleton July 21. He is stationed at Westover Air Force base, Mass.

Class of '49
Has Reunion

Manawa — The 10th reunion of the class of 1949 of the Little Wolf High school was held Saturday evening at Manawa with approximately 60 class members and their spouses attending. Jack Lozier, president of the class acted as master of ceremonies at the banquet. The class history and prophcy were read to see how many members were actually doing what had been predicted 10 years ago.

Prizes were awarded as follows: Most recent marriage, Margie Fitzgerald Briceco; newest baby, Robert Paters; largest family, Robert Paters; coming the longest distance, Howard Schroeder; most gray hair, Clifford Wheeler.

The class decided to hold another reunion in five years.

Tuesday, July 28, 1959 Appleton Post-Crescent B2

and appointed a committee to plan the event. The evening was spent dancing and visiting.

The committee in charge included Jack Lozier, class president; Rita Simonis Carrew, class secretary-treasurer; Mary Loughrin Conroy, Robert Krueger, Donald Abraham, Elaine Kostszak Miller and Bill Gartzke.

Celebrant's 3 a.m. 'Ring' Causes Irrate Fiancee to Return Ring

Landers

BY ANN LANDERS
 DEAR ANN: Please forgive the spelling. My head isn't too clear this morning and I'm writing this through blood-shot eyes.
 I went with the most terrific girl in the world for two years. Before we met I had lost several good jobs because I went the martini route. She told me from the beginning she had no intention of wasting her life on a drunk so I promised to quit drinking.
 I was on the wagon 14 months and pretty proud of myself. We became engaged. Then a guy in our office opened a bottle to celebrate his first son after four girls. I thought he'd be insulted if I didn't toast the new heir. I guess it was the third drink that knocked me out of shape.
 At 3:00 a.m. I phoned Tillie and told her she was the most wonderful thing that ever happened to me. She said, "You are stinkin'—no wonder you didn't show up for our dinner date. The ring will be in the mail tomorrow." Then down went the receiver.
 The ring just came and I'm the saddest guy in town. Please help me.—The Dope
 Dear Dope: I can't follow you around and make sure you keep the cork in the bottle. This is strictly a do-it-yourself project, Bub.
 If you're an alcoholic (and you have the earmarks) it wasn't the third drink that knocked you out of shape—it was the first one. One teaspoon of liquor is enough to open the box of snakes for such people.
 Your only hope is to go to Tillie and beg for forgiveness. With a 14-month sobriety record she may give you another chance.
 (P.S. To Tillie. Give him a break. I think he's learned his lesson.)

DEAR ANN LANDERS: "Worried Dad" thinks he has a problem because his 17-year-old son is dating a 22-year-old school teacher. Well, get a load of this—our handsome 20-year-old boy has gone haywire over a divorcee who is 32.
 We've never met the woman because he has orders not to bring her around. It's understandable how a young kid could be fascinated by an experienced woman of the world. But why on earth would a woman that age look twice at a kid who isn't even old enough to vote? What can she be looking for anyway?—His Parents.
 Dear Parents: She's looking for a little boy to mother.

DEAR ANN: I know you don't write an etiquette column but you seem to have such a sensible approach to all problems I'm hoping to sneak this in.
 Dad and Mother are giving us a rather substantial gift of cash for a wedding present. The grandparents are doing the same.
 One etiquette book says "Gifts of money should never be displayed." Another book says "Display the envelope only." Are either of these correct? What is your opinion?—September Bride.
 Dear Bride: I'm not an authority on etiquette but if it's my opinion you want, here it is:
 To display a check would be vulgar. To display an empty envelope makes no sense. You could, however, tell your close friends and relatives that Dad and Mother and the Grandparents gave checks—and skip the amount.
 If alcohol is robbing you or someone you love of health and dignity, send for ANN LANDERS' new booklet, "Help For The Alcoholic," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope.
 (Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.)

Booklet Offers Hints To Protect Families Against Poisonings

Helpful hints for protecting a family against poisoning are presented in a leaflet published by the U. S. department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Among the suggestions the booklet stresses is keeping all drugs, poisons, and other household chemicals out of the reach of children and away from food. Locking up dangerous substances would be a wise procedure, it notes.

The leaflet also warns that it's deadly to store poisonous or inflammable substances, such as kerosene, gasoline and rat poison in food or beverage containers. Another precaution is to read all labels and follow "caution" statements. Even if a chemical is not labeled "poison", incorrect use may be dangerous.

Do not eat or serve foods, the booklet warns, which smell or look abnormal. It also advises that serving such foods to household pets and farm animals may poison them.

Small children should be warned not to eat or drink drugs, chemicals, plants or berries without a parent's permission.

Special Marker

Another point is making sure all poisons are clearly marked. It suggests sealing bottles and containers with adhesive tape or using a special marker. When throwing away drugs or hazardous materials, parents are warned to make sure that the contents cannot be reached by children or pets.

When using cleaning fluids, care should be taken to insure adequate ventilation and avoid breathing the fumes. When using cleaning fluids, insect poisons, weed killers and solvents, care should be exercised to protect skin and eyes by washing thoroughly after using the products and promptly removing contaminated clothing.

Another precaution in the taken in the dark. The label on a medication should always be clearly readable before any is administered. Medicine without a label shouldn't be administered. To protect the labels on bottles, the brochure suggests covering them with transparent tape.

Another precaution when using drugs is to date all medications at the time of purchase. All left-over drugs should be weeded out of medicine cabinets, especially any prescription drug that a physician ordered for a particular illness.

The booklet stresses use of a prescription drug only by the patient for whom the physician ordered it. It suggests reading all directions

Relief for Parched Lips

Unless the lip complexion is carefully protected from summer sun and heat via proper lipsticks and pomades, it will dry and wrinkle. And rumor hath it that neglectful damsels are currently finding that out.

Let's see what can be done for them, the girls with lips that look more like prisms and prunes than like—lovely. If you count yourself in the group, this is what you do:

Give your lips a "facial". The first step is cleansing the lips with cosmetic cleanser and then with a gentle wash-

3 Attend Plan Meeting for State Assembly

New London—Three members of the New London deanery participated in planning for the state convention to be held in Green Bay during a meeting of the board of the Green Bay Diocesan Council

The main speaker will be the Rt. Rev. Msg. Joseph E. Schieder, Washington, D.C., director of the youth department of the National Council of Catholic women.

The Green Bay board made plans to prepare a yearbook which will be distributed during the state convention. It will contain messages from the bishop and moderator and will recognize the three new committees, youth, rural life and Sacred Heart program.

The New London Deanery donated about $533 to the Sacred Heart program to be the third highest per capita in the diocese.

The council directors also voted to sponsor a Catholic press award.

Mrs. Fred Bernegger and Mrs. John Mullarkey, and Mrs. Ray Muskavitch of Shiocton.

Families Gather at Summer Reunions

Traditionally, families gather during the summer months for reunions to discuss the year's events, meet new family members and grandchildren. Sixty-one people from Chicago, Milwaukee and the Fox Valley area attended the first annual Kampo family reunion Sunday at Erb park. Elected officers are Florian Wind, Milwaukee, president; James Cronin, Milwaukee, secretary, and Mike Banks, Milwaukee, treasurer. Next year's reunion will be held the first Sunday in August in Milwaukee. The ninth annual Lanser family reunion was held Saturday at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. George Lanser, Loon lake. Attending were 22 families. There were six births during the year and no deaths and the oldest member present was Frank Hollenbeck, Appleton. Youngest was Stephen Lan-chairmen for next year's reunion scheduled for July 31 are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kohl, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alferi, all of Appleton. About 150 relatives from Fremont, Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Bloomfield, Larsen, Sheboygan, Reedsburg and Oshkosh attended the seventh annual Gust Kampf family reunion held July 12 at Silver Lake. New officers are Arthur Niemuth, Neenah, president; David Pope, Appleton, vice-president; Mrs. Frank Roblee, Jr., Neenah, secretary; Mrs. Reuben Hanneman, Appleton, treasurer; Mrs. Fred Yurk, Sheboygan, historian; Mrs. Raymond Kempf, Mrs. Edwin Batazjak, Mrs. Donald Zebuski, all of Oshkosh, food committee. The oldest person attending the reunion was Otto Arndt, Fremont, and the youngest was a Barbara Hanneman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Hanneman, Fremont. Oppor Event The 20th annual Oppor family reunion will be held Sunday at Community park in Dale. Mrs. Emil Niemuth is chairman of the event. Jentz Reunion The route 2, Black Creek home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Krueger was the scene of the fourth annual Jentz family reunion held Sunday. About 75 people attended and there were two marriages, three births and two deaths during the year. Officers elected were Lee Ellis, Appleton, treasurer; Mrs. Earl Ziegler, Appleton, secretary, and Miss Vera Jentz, Appleton, historian. Next year's event will be held the last Sunday in July at the Hortonville home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Jentz.

Clintonville Lions Plan Visit to Camp for Blind Clintonville — The Clintonville Lions club members will hold their regular weekly dinner meeting at 6:30 p.m. today at their clubhouse on Long lake. Thursday evening members and their wives will attend a meeting at the Lions camp for the visually handicapped at Rosholt.

Fire Department Called Wittenberg — The fire department was called at 8 p.m. Friday when a 1949 Oldsmobile owned by Billie Harvey caught fire at the high school playground. Neighbors tried to extinguish the blaze before a fire truck arrived. Damage was estimated at $50 from a short in the wiring.

Rockefeller's Son Visits Former Maid in Norway

Kristiansand, Norway — There's a hot rumor here that Steven Rockefeller, son of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, and a former maid in the Rockefeller household are in love. Steven, however, says he and pretty Anne Marie Rasmussen are "just good friends. That's that." Anne Marie, 21-year-old daughter of a grocer here, says there has been no talk of a wedding. The romance rumors were sparked by a long leisurely motorbike trip they took together. Newspapers here are making a big thing of it. Steven, 23, said yesterday: "I'm on vacation and just visiting Anne Marie." He said that when he was released from U. S. military service July 10 he flew to Oslo, where he met Anne Marie. They bought the motorbike the same day and set out for Kristiansand, 150 miles away, to see her parents. They arrived Sunday night. Yesterday, Steven took a boat ride with the Rasmussen family. Upon their return, the couple was asked whether there were plans for a wedding. "We haven't talked about that," Anne Marie answered. "There's no reason to spread rumors. People seem to know more than we do." The girl went to the United States in 1956 to do domestic work as do many young Norwegian girls. While working in the Rockefeller home, she is reported to have had several dates with Steven. She later returned to Norway. Steven went into military service in January for a six-month tour. Steven said yesterday he in-

Pierre Balmain's Fashions Have Stem-Slim Skirts, Greatcoats of Bold Plaids

BY NADEANE WALKER
Paris —(AP)— The lotus line featuring busts in bloom joined the fall and winter fashion parade in Paris today with the showing of Pierre Balmain's collection.
Stem-slim skirts were a little longer and jackets a lot longer. Many were tubular, hardly fitted at the waist but snug on the hips, with broad shoulders and classic collars.
Balmain describes part of his show as "relaxed, half-full skirts with supple bodies. Cape-sleeved Sherlock Holmes greatcoats in big bold plaids added a dashing and gallant note.
Other slim fitting coats were in soft, satiny brushed wool with fur cuffs and collars.
Very bare necklines for after dark were draped.
Balmain brings back a longer waisted look. His skirts are several inches below the knee and his sleeves seven-eighths length. Beige and brown are his favorite colors for daytime, black for night.
For formal wear he shows both full-skirted ballerina lengths with long lace or velvet jackets, and full-length stem skirts with full "blooming" bodices.
Dresses have broad-belted, tiny waistlines. Some have little short sleeves.

Short fur jackets are popular.
The new wide shoulder is never padded, but cut on a broad slope.
Naughty Air
For evening, Balmain utilizes black chiffon and naked slits below the neckline to give a naughty air, particularly in the back. Many evening dresses are so tight to the ankle that the mannequins could only wriggle along.
For chilly ladies with money to burn, the designer turns out a double decker fur coat as his seasonal folly. A sleeveless black broadtail topcoat is worn over a full-sleeved white ermine.
There are a lot of brocade gold and white theater and dinner suits, with the longish jacket usually fur-collared and the bodice embroidered with gold and jewels. Balmain claims these, with his "lotus" dinner gowns, mark a big comeback of dressed-up gals and receptions, and no doubt all the dressmakers hope he's right.
A new material seen for the first time this morning was moire tulle.
Sophistication is the swell note in Paris fall-winter fashions—less prettiness and more elegance.

The Town of Grand Chute volunteer fire department held a benefit dance Saturday evening at Rainbow gardens. Proceeds of the event will be used to equip a 2,800-gallon tanker tractor-trailer which the department is buying. Dancing in the above photo are Mr. and Mrs. Clem Romenesko, route 3, Appleton, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pasch, Jr., also of route 3, Appleton.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 8

Once baby begins to creep and gets his first taste of freedom, that play pen is going to become less popular. But the shift from pen to the free world of floors should be gradual, since there are still times when you'll want baby to stay put. If you plan a good balance between play pen time and roaming time—with each session at about the same time each day—chances are baby will accept the idea of regular routine without too much fuss!

"All fours" activity calls for plenty of "stick-to-the-ribs" food. Gerber Strained and Junior Meats are just the thing to give baby the protein he needs for strength and muscle development. Made from selected, lean Armour cuts, they're specially processed for high retention of nourishing food values. Low in fat, they're all pure meat, with just enough broth left in to bring out the best in the flavors and velvetize texture.

Cute "knee caps." When baby's overalls wear through at the knees, why not cut out patches of bunnies, kitties or most anything but a plain old square. It's as easy to attach a patch with personality—and baby will love looking at the adorable little animals.

Ball game for one. A brightly colored ball is an excellent creeping incentive for baby. Fun to roll. Fun to follow. Pure joy to catch up with.

Creepers are usually teething... and teething will want the comfort that Gerber Teething Biscuits provide. For these special biscuits are extra-hard and extra-smooth to provide blissful biting satisfaction and blessed relief for tender gums. Made from pleasantly flavored ingredients, they're baked into an easy-to-hold shape. Individually wrapped in cellophane for cleanliness and carrying purposes. Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

London Dog Psychiatrist Explores Fido's Behavior; Treats Canine Complexes

BY DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

If Fido bites the mailman, it's probably because somebody stole his favorite bone when he was a puppy.
If he chews the furniture, he's expressing a frustration complex, and hunger for affection.
If he spots the rug, it's because he feels insecure.
All this can be corrected by scientific psychological treatment, said Yvonne Henderson of London, a dog psychiatrist.
Mrs. Henderson is in New York to explore the possibilities of establishing an office here, after long experience in probing the psychoses of British dogs, says she:
"I am appalled at the lack of understanding of dog emotions here," says she. "New York dogs lead a dog's life, shut up in apartments all day long, left alone, with no companionship, no freedom, no love. It's no wonder they develop traumas and bite people."
"In England everybody owns a dog—they're as numerous as cars in America. And public rules and customs are geared for consideration of the dog population. You can take a dog anywhere in England—bars, restaurants, hotels, trains and buses. There we understand that a dog must have freedom and company if he is to be happy. Nobody minds having a dog come along to cocktails, because he's always well behaved."
"A dog who lives in a New York apartment is the most neglected of creatures. He's lucky if his owner takes him out for a 10-minute walk, on a leash, once a day. The rest of the time he's left to his own devices, sometimes even tied up. How would you like that kind of a life?"
Knows Dogs
Mrs. Henderson has spent most of her life understanding dogs, as an international breeder, exhibitor and judge, a writer for dog magazines, canine correspondent for the London Times and friend of all dogdom.
How does she psychoanalyze a dog?
"Well, I don't usually use a couch," says Mrs. Henderson, "but if the dog likes to lie down, he may. I just talk to the dogs and find out what's worrying them, you know. How's that?"
"Why, certainly I can understand what a dog is saying, and dogs always understand me."
"Dogs can be nervous for weeks, just from boredom. Dogs can be lonely, frustrated and unhappy, just like human beings."
"Of course, dogs have different I.Q. ratings—some are bright and some are stupid, just like people."
"If a dog has a high I.Q., it's simple to work with him. Adams, care of Appleton Post-Crescent, 378 Pattern Dept., 243 West 17th St., New York 11, longer. But I've never yet met a dog with whom I couldn't hold a conversation."

Our Children TV Shows Should be Selected With Care

BY ANGELO PATRI
The radio and the TV have brought us many excellent and pleasant hours of listening and viewing. They have also brought us periods of unprofitable even hurtful experiences of listening and looking. These are especially bad, in my opinion, for the children.
Parents are busy and often tired and if the children are quiet they are content to have them so without being too anxious about what is keeping them so peaceful. It would be well, even at the price of resting time to know just what the program is offering them.
One of the precious phases of a radio or a TV is the immediate silence that follows the turning of a knob or a touch of a button. Those knobs and buttons serve a most useful, wholesome purpose at times; especially when a firm and determined hand operates them. That hand should be used oftener in many homes today for the sake of the children's mental and physical health.
In our country the press, radio, TV, stage and screen are free and uncensored so that many forms of information and entertainment are presented. We would not have that otherwise but surely each of us can act as our own censor and select the programs the children can see with pleasure and without hurt to their minds and morals.
Experiences Teach
I think nobody questions the fact that experiences teach. Viewing and listening to them can and do teach. What are our children learning when they view murder, listen to tales of manhunts and the shooting to kill that ends them? Surely not gentleness; surely not respect for the commandment that says Thou shalt not kill?
What do they learn as they listen to rough talk, threats of violence, slang expressions and poor English? Certainly not cultured tones and good English. What do they learn when they watch and listen to the behavior and language of a sort of people no decent American would tolerate in his home?
Make no mistake about it, they are learning what we would not willingly teach them. Then why not censor their programs, select the ones they can enjoy without hurt of any sort? I might take a few minutes of time, cut from a coveted rest period but surely the benefit to the children would outweigh the loss. Do get out of that armchair and see what the children are seeing; listen to what they are listening to and take steps, take a hand, and use the knob and the button provided for the most useful of purposes, the "On" and the "Off."

Fish Economy for Iceland

Nation Hopes to Sell More To U. S., Less to Russians

BY THOMAS A. REEDY
Reykjavik, Iceland—(AP)—Iceland has fish for sale. If it has its way, the United States will buy a lot of it and thereby help this nation, a link in the North Atlantic defense system, build its economy and diminish any dependency on the Soviet Union.

A group of frozen food experts here from the United States agreed that the Icelandic fish is fine tasting food.

"We'll buy all we can get, just freeze it right, package it right and make the price right," said Walter Meier, frozen food broker from Milwaukee.

Meier indicated that the flow of Icelandic fish to the United States may be stepped up considerably. The government invited Meier, Dave Elggren of Salt Lake City, Brock Steel of Orlando, Fla. and others to investigate the possibilities.

As it stands now, the United States seems to have won the battle for Iceland's political support but the need is to cement the thing from an economic viewpoint. The fishing industry, representing 97 per cent of Iceland's exports, is the key.

Want Economy Support
Government people say the foreign reserves accruing from work on the NATO air base are useful but they want American support for the island's principal economy and the one it will have to live on under all circumstances, cold war or peace.

Says the foreign office

John Welhouse
New Director
Of School Board

John Welhouse was elected to a 3-year term as director of the Speel school board in the town of Buchanan at the annual meeting Monday night.

Welhouse defeated Edward Vanden Boogard, former director.

Anthony Feldkamp was re-elected to the auditing committee.

A three mil tax levy on the assessed valuation of the district was approved. The budget for the year will be approximately $14,000.

It was decided to furnish free textbooks for the coming school year and a 9-month schedule of classes was adopted. Reports of the auditing committee and treasurer were approved.

Clarence Wundrow served as chairman of the meeting.

Breeze Blows Bills,
But Most Recovered

Marissa, Ill. —(AP)— When $10,000 in currency was scattered from a broken mail pouch, residents helped recover it for the Marissa Post office.

All but $245 was found. The mail sack split when it was dropped at the depot from a passing train. The bills were carried away by a stiff breeze.

least a compromise of nine miles would be reached, a far cry from the British demand for four miles.

The issue has struck hard at every man on the street in Iceland because he knows fish are it. When he threw rocks at the British embassy last fall over this issue, he wasn't fooling. Since that time the enmity has, if anything, grown.

This correspondent, broached by a casual Icelander, in a public place, was asked the simple question: "British?"

"No, American."

"Oh, that's better," the man said.

Since the fishing dispute, the Icelander has been looking at his friends. He has noted that England took 90 per cent of Iceland exports only 15 years ago and now takes a fraction less than 10 per cent. Deals which were reckoned in pounds not long ago are now discussed in dollars and German marks. The automobiles on the streets are American. Youngsters wear blue jeans and the candy shops display chewing gum. Ginger beer has disappeared, Coca-Cola has arrived.

through its varying officialdom:

"Back up the fishing export market, held us build roads, power plants, industry that will go forward eternally." Officially the government cannot say these things, Icelanders being too proud to hold out their hands, but this is what they believe.

American state department people here take the view also that the ups-and-downs of military spending at the air base disrupt the economy in the sense that one year $15 million may be spent and the next year only $7 million. That is because military planning has to be what it is.

Reds Important Buyers
Ambassador John L. Muccio, here almost five years, has tapped Icelandic thinking. Muccio and his energetic staff have captured the respect of Icelandic officials.

Today one-third of the fish are going eastward to the Soviet Union, East Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia. The United States is taking about 13 per cent, West Germany and Scandinavia about 10 per cent each. From the western nations, Iceland gets something it can use. From Poland it is receiving Polish vodka and the Icelander doesn't much need anything more to drink. Czech light bulbs arrive and explode when inserted. Russian gasoline is still the only valuable import from the east. Americans on duty to protect Iceland buy for their cars gasoline that comes from Baku, U.S.S.R.

Fight with Britain
A battle with Britain over the cod, haddock and herring catch exploded last September when Iceland imposed a 12-mile fishing limit off its shores.

At stake was a revenue of almost $9 million a year to Britain for fish caught within that limit. The British refused to bow to the order and sent in 12 warships, a task force of 5,000 naval men, to protect its trawlers.

The British patrol was enough to keep West Germany, Belgium and Russia out of the waters. Five Icelandic motor vessels badger any British trawlers they run into in so-called "poaching pockets" so that around the daylight clock a sort of running duel goes on. An Icelandic government authority commented sardonically:

"We didn't plan it that way but the British are now patrolling 90 per cent of our waters at no cost to us by keeping the Russians, Belgians and Germans out. We can take care of the remainder."

Conference Awaited
The nation is leaning for a final solution on an international fishing conference in Genoa, Italy, next spring. The authorities here believe the conference will vote for the 12-mile limit but if not, at

Pipeline Firm Told to Prove It Can Get Gas

Canadian Supply Would Give Service In Fox Cities Area

Midwestern Gas Transmission company was told Monday in Washington to prove it can get natural gas from Canada before getting authority to begin service to several Fox Cities area communities. Communities affected include Waupaca, Shawano, Clintonville, Hortonville, New London, Bear Creek, Embarrass, Bonduel, Seymour and Weyauwega. Examiner Emery J. Woodall, of the federal power commission, told Midwestern it should prove early in the hearing there is a supply to support the firm's application to import gas for use in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and North Dakota. Midwestern wants to sell about 158 million cubic feet daily to Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line company, which would serve the Fox Cities area communities. The FPC last year rejected the company's first application to serve various midwest states, saying there was no proof Canadian gas would be made available.

Midwestern lawyer Harry S. Littman said that under the company's contract with Trans-Canada Pipe Lines, Ltd., gas would be available. Nine Canadian witnesses, he said, will testify as to reserves and availability of the gas above Trans-Canada's Canadian requirements. The company proposes to build a $52,297,000 pipeline system extending from the U.S. - Canadian border near Emerson, Manitoba, to Marshfield.

204 Million Feet
It plans to buy about 204 million cubic feet of gas daily from Trans-Canada Pipe Lines, Ltd. and resell 158 million cubic feet of this to Michigan Wisconsin Pipe Line company where the two lines would hook up at Marshfield. Michigan Wisconsin proposes to build a $24,177,000 system including 97 miles of main line from Marshfield to Appleton.

Board Buys New Kitchen Equipment

The purchase of more than $3,000 worth of kitchen equipment for James Madison Junior High school was approved by the board of education Monday night.

The contract for $3,050 goes to Bay Fixtures company, Green Bay, low bidder. Equipment includes an 8 by 12-foot cook's table, electric range, potato peeler, mixer and stand, bake table with bins, dish carts and serving trays. The lamp contract for the next year went to General Electric Supply company, low bidder, and the milk bid will be divided between Quaker Dairy company and Utschig Dairy, which had identical low bids.

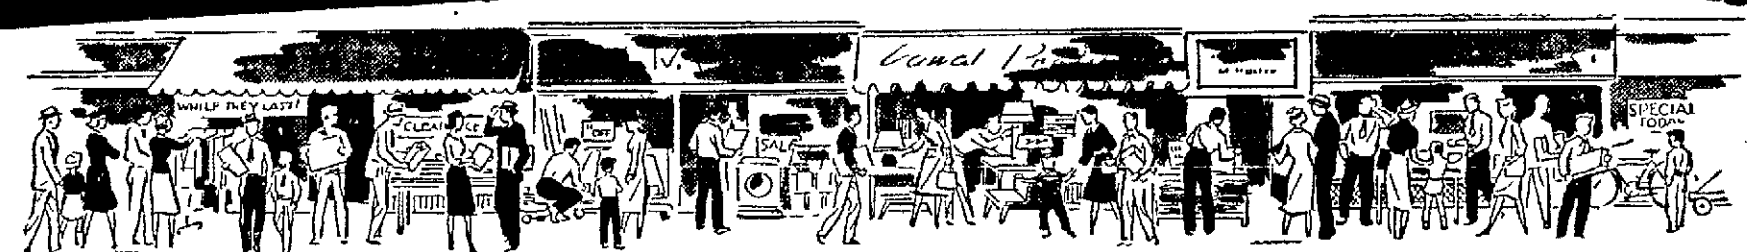

Laundry work will be divided between Heller's Laundrette and People's Laundry.

School Board to Wait For Research Report

No Decision Made on Participation In Ford Foundation-Sponsored Program

The board of education will wait for a report on a possible project from Supt. of School John P. Mann before deciding if it should participate in a state research program.

Dr. John Guy Fowlkes, director of the Wisconsin Improvement program and former dean of the University of Wisconsin school of education, spoke to the board Monday night about research in the Appleton school system, one of those chosen to participate in the program.

Schools are unique among institutions of their size by having only one class of workers with a pay scale that is substantially the same for everyone, he said.

The Ford foundation gave $625,000 to the University of Wisconsin in April to be administered by Fowlkes to improve university curriculum and join a selected group of school systems in the state "with people who believe research and experimentation can improve schools."

Fowlkes said $250 scholarships were established to be given to up to 10 members of a teaching staff for one month at the university for reading about recent research.

Supplying Funds In Appleton, he said, there has been a great deal of experimentation but it hasn't been identified as such.

Fowlkes said some of the topics of research are class size, the possibilities of using tape recorders and television for teaching and learning and more provisions for particularly gifted children.

Supt. of Schools John P.

Elmdale School Hikes Budget but Cuts Tax Levy

Elmdale school district No. 7 approved a higher budget for next year but it will need less money from property taxes.

The base tax rate has dropped $1.50 per $1,000 on the present assessment of $946,000, which means the school tax rate for 1959-1960 will be $10 per $1,000. Last year's school tax total of $10,876.88 brought in more than was needed, leaving a larger cash balance on hand to start the next school year.

The lower tax rate will raise the required $9,460 for school expenses in the 1959-1960 budget set at $17,603.58. Operating expenses for the year are estimated at $10,710 as compared with last year's $9,554.49. State and county aids for the 1959-1960 year total $1,250 and milk refund $200. Balance on hand is $6,923.

Ray Weyenberg was re-elected director of the school board for a 3-year term and Wilfred Vosters was re-elected to the auditing committee. The 3-man school board includes Weyenberg, Donald K. Olson, treasurer, and Lawrence J. DeCoster, clerk. Members of the auditing committee are Bert Hietpas, Peter Schumacher and Vosters.

Mann noted there was an inference funds were supplied on a matching basis. Fowlkes replied this was usually the case.

Fowlkes said a design officer plans the experiments, which usually are from two to four years long, after six to 12 months required to put them in motion.

Projects are chosen on a local level and not by administrators of the program, he told the board. They would probably be chosen by the teaching staff, subject to approval of the school board.

Must Have Problem "It seems to me we should decide first that there is a problem and not scratch around for one," Mrs. Myrl N. Davis said.

Mann replied it would not be a question of finding a problem, but of which problem to take.

Both Mrs. Davis and Franklin Nehs said the situation should work the other way, with the teaching staff and administration coming to the board with suggestions and enthusiasm for the research.

In other board action, President Edward V. Krueger named Victor Sumnicht, Earl Harder and John N. Schneider to the business affairs committee and Nehs, Mrs. Davis and Dr. Neil A. McLeod to the education committee.

Nehs said a report would be ready for the next meeting on the Franklin school roof situation.

Walkout Shuts Dairy Plant At Green Bay

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — Hundreds of Green Bay and De Pere customers of Verifine dairy missed their milk deliveries this morning when deliverymen, members of Teamsters Local 75, called a surprise strike at an emergency meeting Monday night.

The dispute between the union and the company was not revealed. Clem Gerstner, business agent for Local 75, did not announce what the difficulty was and was not available for comment this morning.

Martin Van De Kreeke, manager of the local plant, expressed surprise at the walkout and said he had no information concerning reasons for the strike.

About 15 drivers are involved, although refusal of other workers to cross the picket line this morning caused a complete plant shutdown. Verifine has 22 employees here.

Lynne LaSalle

Rites Thursday For Boat Victim

Funeral services for Lynne LaSalle, 17, killed by the propeller of a motor boat Sunday at MacGregor, Minn., will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday at the Johnson Funeral home, Duluth, Minn.

The girl, who would have been a senior at Appleton High school this fall, will be buried in Duluth, where she was born March 6, 1942.

Survivors include her father, Louie C. LaSalle, 1522 N. Nicholas street, a salesman and owner of Valley Stationers; her mother, Mrs. C. M. McCourtie, Duluth, Minn.; one sister, Lenore, Appleton, and one brother, Mickey, Duluth.

Miss LaSalle was swimming alone about 200 yards from shore when she was struck by a motorboat towing a water skier. A Duluth man, member of the girl's vacationing party, was operating the boat.

Today's Deaths

Mrs. Edwin Petznick

Mrs. Edwin Petznick, 65, of 716 State street, Menasha, died at 10 p.m. Monday in Neenah after a long illness.

She was born April 26, 1894, in Appleton, where she lived most of her life. She had lived in Menasha for the last seven years.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at the First Methodist church, Appleton, with burial in Highland Memorial park. The Rev. K. L. Engelman, associate pastor, will officiate.

Friends may call at the Brettschneider Funeral home from 2 p.m. Wednesday afternoon until 10 a.m. Thursday and then at the church.

Survivors include the widow; four daughters, Mrs. William Dorschner, Menasha; Mrs. Arthur Vandenberg, Larsen, Mrs. Orval Bevers, Little Chute, and Mrs. Elmer Schulz, Canova, S. D.; one son, Newell, Menasha; one brother, Arthur Erdman, Pass-A-Grille Beach, Pinellas, Fla.; and 13 grandchildren.

Lauritz Austreng, 88, Amherst, died at 11 a.m. Monday at Stevens Point. He was born May 19, 1871, in Norway, and came to the United States to farm at New Hope in 1890.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday at North New

Byrnes Backs Ceiling on Interest Rate

Says He's Certain Most Republicans Favor 4½ Per Cent

BY FRANCES McKUSICK

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau

Washington — Speaking for "a majority of the Republican membership," Rep. John W. Byrnes, Green Bay, last week urged the House to enact legislation requested by the president removing the interest rate ceiling on government bonds.

In the introduction of his hour-long speech on the house floor, Byrnes charged the members not to play "politics" with the interest rate, and pleaded that "the fate of our nation is involved in this question."

Backs Ceiling A member of the tax-writing House Ways and Means committee, and the chairman of the House Republican Policy committee, the Wisconsin congressman said he was "convinced" that the Republican membership of the house "would almost unanimously support the recommendation of the President "that ceiling of 4½ per cent on long-term government bonds be removed."

He told the House that all ten Republican members of the Ways and Means Committee supported legislation providing for the lifting of this ceiling, but that the Demo-

Survivors include six daughters, Mrs. Sylvester Thompson, Amherst, Mrs. George Rein, Milwaukee, Mrs. Frank Notch, Philadelphia, Mrs. Reinard Krause, Iowa, Mrs. William Glenzer, Stevens Point, and Mrs. Karl Bestul, Amherst; two sons, Lawrence, Elkhorn, and Willie, Milwaukee; and a brother and sister in Norway.

William H. Guy

William H. Guy, 72, Grand Army home resident, King, died at 7:45 a.m. Monday at the home hospital.

He was born April 16, 1887, in Milwaukee, and had been a home resident for 21 years.

Funeral services will be at the home chapel at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday, with the Rev. Charles W. Langdon, chaplain, officiating. Burial will be in Wisconsin Veterans Memorial cemetery. Friends may call at the Holly Funeral home, Waupaca, until 12:30 p.m. Wednesday and then at the chapel.

There are no immediate survivors.

crats on the committee, who were in the majority, refused to report out the bill.

Explaining that the treasury would have to make short-term loans (of five years or less) to handle the huge national debt unless interest rates were raised on government bonds, Byrnes charged that this would be "the very type of inflationary process that is mentioned by the Cabinet Committee on Price Stability for Economic Growth."

Tipsy Drivers Fined $100

Appleton, Cudahy Men Lose Right To Drive for Year

Two men were fined $100 each and had their drivers' licenses revoked for a year in municipal court this morning after pleading guilty of drunken driving.

Nicholas Ashauer, 60, of 1523 N. Racine street, was arrested Sunday on E. Wisconsin avenue by Appleton police. He was unable to take the drunkometer test.

Alfred Karwelk, 56, Cudahy, was arrested July 9 by state police at Highways 41 and 55.

Four Motorists Deny Violating Traffic Laws

One motorist today pleaded innocent of three traffic charges and three others denied single counts in appearances before Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede.

James Moeller, route 2, Black Creek, denied charges of reckless driving, hit-and-run and failure to report an accident. He was arrested July 5 in the town of Ellington.

Moeller posted bonds of $100 on the first count and $50 on each of the other two for trial Sept. 15.

Kenneth A. Gustin, 34, route 3, Appleton, denied he drove at speeds greater than reasonable and prudent July 19 in the town of Grand Chute. He posted bond of $78.95 for trial Oct. 13.

Roman H. Doxator, 28, route 3, Seymour, denied driving on the wrong side of the road and posted bond of $78.95 for trial Oct. 31.

Katherine S. Benton, 1105 E. Eldorado street, pleaded innocent of failing to stop for a stop sign. She posted bond of $28.95 for trial Sept. 22.

Tax Collections End This Week

This is the last week Appleton property owners can pay their real estate taxes without penalty, Ray L. Feuerstein, city treasurer, says.

Feuerstein will have special collection hours from 6 to 8 p.m. Friday. Daily hours are from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 to 4 p.m.

After Aug. 1, delinquent taxes are turned over to the county treasurer for collection. Interest is charged back to Jan. 1 on all unpaid taxes.

Courts Grant 4 Divorces

One Annulment Also Approved, Records Show

Four divorces and one annulment have been granted by Circuit Judge Andrew Parnell and Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmiede. All plaintiffs in divorce actions charged cruel and inhuman treatment.

Marion Pomeroy, 27, town of Buchanan, received custody of four children and a divorce from Clifford Pomeroy, 27, town of Buchanan, in circuit court. The couple married June 13, 1953, in Outagamie county.

Patricia Thibert, 21, of 1611 N. Morrison street, received a divorce and restoration of her maiden name, Behnke, in a circuit court action against Marvin Thibert, 24, Appleton. The court approved a division of property. The couple married Oct. 19, 1957, in Outagamie county.

Marlene Smith, 24, of 2424 N. Mason street, received an annulment of her marriage to Eugene W. Smith, 35, Whitier, Calif., on grounds Smith was not eligible to marry. The couple married Nov. 10, 1956, in Dubuque, Iowa.

Betty Stephany, 20, Little Chute, received a divorce and division of property from Lawrence Stephany, 26, Green Bay, in municipal court. The couple married Nov. 10, 1956, in Oneida.

Raymond Wolff, 25, Appleton, received a divorce from Ingrid H. Wolf, 21, also of Appleton, in municipal court. Judge Schmiede approved a division of property, restored the woman's maiden name,

Midget or Child in Burglar Gang Which Looted British Bank

London — A burglar gang spearheaded by a child or midget made off with 20,000 pounds ($56,000) in a weekend raid on an East London bank.

Police said the burglars got into the bank by pushing a tiny member of the gang between the bars protecting a lavatory window. The tiny one let the mob in through the front door.

The burglars cut through the steel door of a strong room with acetylene torches, then blew open a safe with dynamite.

The job apparently took several hours, and the culprits paused from time to time to brew and drink tea. They forgot to wash the teacups, which were sent to Scotland Yard for a fingerprint inspection.

The tea, cups and teapot were taken from a cabinet where they were kept for the use of the bank's staff.

Croatt Reelected Ebben School Clerk

John Croatt Monday night was reelected clerk of the Ebben School district, north of Kaukauna. Wilfred Baumgart was named a member of the auditing committee.

Teacher for the 1959 - 60 school year will be Warren Welch, and the school budget will be $4,000.

The Ebben district has been discussing problems of building and consolidation. More informational meetings will be held in the fall.

Foreign Policy Still Endangered

White Says Ike Lacks Fortitude; Contest Still Not Wholly Lost

BY WILLIAM S. WHITE

Washington—Though it may sound like a stuck needle, it is necessary to report it again: the key part of American foreign policy is in peril of wasting away.

This is called the foreign aid program. More exactly, it is the mutual security program by which the west has been kept in economic and military health.

Most of the west and the United States seems determined to cling to the fiction that talking will bring us safely through with the Russians.

Weak Policy
Talking surely would be sound if it were backed up by rising western power. But at present it is largely conversational moonshine. Our force is the foreign aid program. It is not yet empty and rusted but there is great danger that it soon may become just that.

Congress now has made an authorization of up to $3.5 billion to carry foreign aid for another year. It is not a good bill. This the foreign policy leaders of both parties and the state department well know. It is tolerable only for the short run.

Inadequate as it is, it must race another obstacle course: the congressional appropriations committees will bring out separate measure to provide what actual money is to be provided.

Blames Ike
Foreign aid's bipartisan friends in congress again have been unable to make foreign aid rational and businesslike. For this failure, President Eisenhower is most of all to blame. He withdrew his own backing for the long-term legislation he himself proposed two years ago. He did this at the insistence of his budget advisers to hold the line against spending and inflation. Now the president's own foreign aid advisory commission again has recommended the same kind of financing.

There have been other failures, too. The foreign aid administration has refused to face up to facts that the program has been far from perfectly run, that there is waste in it, and that it will do nobody any good to deny it and refuse to help clean up the situation.

Loose Administration
The comptroller general, Joseph Campbell, surely is not anti-foreign aid, and he surely is not anti-Eisenhower. But Campbell officially has stated that a "pattern of loose, lax administration runs through the entire complex" of the program.

The new head of foreign aid, James Riddleberger, is in no way to blame for past untidiness. He will need to act fast to end it.

The best friends foreign aid ever had in congress are not blameless. The disillusion of men like Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas has led them to play a rather dispirited game. They need to pull up their socks, for the great contest is not yet wholly lost.

Says 20 Big Firms Get Half of Contracts

Washington — Twenty large companies are getting 50 per cent of the government's defense contracts, Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) said Monday.

Sparkman, who heads the senate small business committee, said in a senate speech that waste and inefficiency are widespread in defense department buying. He added that a lot of money is going down the drain in contracts negotiated without competitive bidding.

Sparkman said more than two-thirds of the prime contracts—in dollar value—are being let "without a vestige of competition."

"Yet the tax-paying public, and I dare say some members of congress, still believe that the federal government conducts its purchasing activities under an advertised, sealed bid system in which, all other things being equal, the bidder offering the lowest and most economical price to the government gets the government's business," he said.

Parish Property Hit by Vandals

Jonesboro, Ga. — At least 15 tombstones were damaged in the New Hope Methodist Church cemetery Sunday night only a few hours after members of the congregation discovered the church itself had been damaged. Sheriff W. Loy Dickson said the vandalism looked like the work of youngsters "with a real mean streak in them."

Some grave markers were broken in half and others uprooted. The vandals also threw flowers out of their pots and trampled across graves. Mrs. Sidney Betsill, Sunday school superintendent, reported.

The graveyard damage was found while church members were still cleaning up the inside of the church.

A Message to Fox Cities Businessmen . . .

HOW MANY FLIGHTS DO YOU WANT?

How many flights a day do you believe will provide you and your business associates with the best, most convenient air service schedule to and from Outagamie County Airport? Two, five, 10, 25 flights a day?

North Central Airlines is ready and willing to provide an expanded and improved schedule when and if Fox Cities businessmen and residents prove there's a need for more daily flights. But, it's up to all of us to use the service we now have. Only by using today's service will we have better service in the future.

Next time you plan to travel — Milwaukee, Chicago, Minneapolis or other far away cities — depart and arrive at the Outagamie County Airport. Fly North Central regularly and often. Better air service benefits all of us. For reservations, phone North Central's Appleton office. RE 9-1133.

Third Major League Plans '61 Operation

5 Founding Cities Meet Aug. 18 With AL-NL Committee

By JACK HAND

New York —(AP)— The five founding cities of the third major league — the Continental league — plan to operate in 1961 with at least eight clubs.

Where will they get the players? Will they work with the other majors? Or outside the present structure?

These questions will be battled around when the founders meet Aug. 18 with Commissioner Ford Frick's 7-man committee from the existing majors.

New York, is one of the five founders. The names and backers of the others were announced Monday at a news conference by Bill Shea, chairman of Mayor Wagner's baseball committee.

Round Out Group

Toronto, Houston, Denver and Minneapolis-St. Paul round out the group of founders. Shea listed 11 cities that have evinced interest in joining. They are Buffalo, Montreal, Atlanta, New Orleans, Miami, Indianapolis, Dallas-Fort Worth, Seattle, Portland, Ore., San Diego and San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Shea said he hoped to have two or three more cities lined up with the founders before his group meets with Frick's committee. He declined to reveal details of his plans for securing players from existing major league teams and their minor league farms.

The new league said it expected to start in 1961.

Field Completes Quest for Match Play Spots Today

Racine —(AP)— A small army was back on the Racine Country club and Meadowbrook courses today, completing the second half of qualifying play in the fifty-eighth annual Wisconsin amateur golf championship.

Leading the record field of 202 players with 69s after Monday's 18 holes were Archie Dadian of Milwaukee, the state public links and medal play titlist; and Jackie Allen of Madison. Dadian turned in 33-36 at Meadowbrook's par 73 layout while Allen was 36-33 at Racine CC's par 71 course.

The only three Fox Cities golfers playing were: Wayne Hull, Kaukauna, who shot an 83; Ray Doell, Neenah, 79; and Dick Spangenberg, Neenah, 81.

Those playing today's 18 holes will switch from the course they toured Monday in their quest for one of the 63 spots in match play starting Wednesday at the country club.

It was estimated on the basis of the Monday's scores that 152 or 153 would be needed to enter match play.

Automatic Entry

Dick Sucher of Milwaukee, the defending champion, automatically enters Wednesday's round. He withdrew from qualifying action Monday after carding a 70 at the County Club. He said there was no point in shooting at Meadowbrook today in view of the fact no match play would be held there.

Other sub par rounds at Meadowbrook included a 70 by Harry Simonson of Madison, 1947 runnerup; and 71s by Jim Lohr of Sheboygan, current Northeastern Wisconsin king; and Dick Conley of Green Bay, former Northeastern titleholder.

Even part a t the country club was accomplished by Bob Silver of Racine and Bill

Soos Sock 3 Homers, Hand Fox Cities 9 to 4 Setback

'Chuck' Weatherspoon's Grand Slam Accounts for Losers' Scoring

Sioux City, Iowa — The Sioux City Soos whipped the Fox Cities Foxes, 9-4, Monday night to even their current series at one game apiece.

Fred Bruckbauer or Dick Griffith will pitch for the Foxes against Gordon "Ernie" Nevers in tonight's rubber game of the series.

A grand slam homer by "Chuck" Weatherspoon in the seventh inning accounted for the Foxes' scoring last night. Despite the loss, the Foxes remained 1 1/2 games out of first place, since Green Bay also fell.

3 Soos Hit Homers

Jerry Sheehan, Tom McDonald and Alex George all homered for the Soos to lead the assault on three Fox Cities pitchers — starter and loser Bert Guenther, Gary Mitchell and Lee Stange.

George put the Soos ahead to stay with a first-inning solo homer. Dick Howser singled home the hosts' second run in the second frame.

Guenther Chased

A 2-run homer by McDonald chased Guenther in the fifth. Mitchell came on, and Horace Garner doubled and Sheehan singled to make it 5-0.

Sheehan's 3 - run homer boosted the Soos' lead to eight runs in the sixth.

The Foxes broke the ice in the seventh. Mitchell hit a 1-out single. "Zorro" Versalles walked and Hernan Vila beat out a hit to load the bases. Weatherspoon then clubbed his thirteenth homer of the season over the right field fence.

The Foxes threatened in the eighth off reliever John Wyatt, who had relieved starter Jerry Mercer. Bennie Sinquefeld walked and Jack Feller doubled.

Reds Down Cardinals Behind Purkey

(From AP Dispatches)

Cincinnati rapped St. Louis, 8-3, in the National league Monday night to close the gap between the sixth and seventh place clubs to three games.

The Redlegs scored twice in the first inning, then nailed "Vinegar Bend" Mizell (11-6) with Johnny Temple's fifth homer, a 3-run shot in the fifth. Bob Purkey (9-10) went all the way, giving up five of the Cards' nine hits when they scored all three runs in the fifth.

The Braves defeated Pittsburgh, 5-2, in the only other NL action.

Packers Trade Ferguson to Steelers for Draft Choice

Players Shed 5-10 Pounds Each in Drill

Green Bay — Veteran fullback Howie Ferguson was traded today to the Pittsburgh Steelers for an undisclosed draft choice. Ferguson, starting his seventh season in pro football, left this noon to join the Steelers in California, Pa.

BY ART DALEY
Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay — "That Forrest Gregg sure looks good to me!"

This innocent remark by Packer Offensive Line Coach Bill Austin sent the other coaches into spontaneous side-splitting laughter — just like Bill had told the funniest joke ever.

The background is this: For weeks, Coach Vince Lombardi had been kidding Austin about playing again — especially after a couple of veterans retired. Austin, still only 29, put in seven years at offensive guard with the Giants but a knee injury forced him out.

"I think Bill was starting to believe me," Lombardi said the other day. Thus, Austin can hardly be blamed for booming all of his offensive linemen.

Austin Happy

All fooling aside, Austin was especially happy to learn yesterday that one of the offensive line retirements had been turned into a veteran offensive tackle. Ollie Spencer, the right-side offense tackle who came from the Lions to the Packers in the Tobin Rote deal, was traded to the Lions for Ken Russell, a 3-year veteran at the same position.

The two are pretty much on a par, though Russell is younger, 23, compared to Spencer's 28 years. Both are insurance men near Detroit but Ollie decided to retire rather than get too far away from his policy holders.

Thus, the Packers got some return on a player who was figured as lost.

The 255-pound Russell will work into offensive right tackle — a position that was occupied by Gregg in most of yesterday's practice. Gregg, a fast-moving freight, will also learn offensive tackle and, of course, the guard spots.

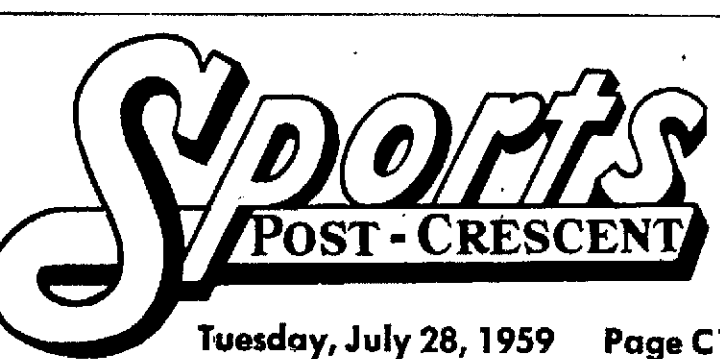

With Hank Bullough, Jim Salsbury and Spencer gone, Austin is double-checking every athlete over 230 pounds.

Five Experienced

Austin has five experienced offensive linemen — not counting center Jim Ringo. They are tackles Bob Skoronski, Norm Masters and Gregg and guards Jerry Kramer and Fred Thurston, the former Colt. Two other veterans are getting a look — Tom Bettis, the linebacker, at offensive guard and Jim Temp, the de-

Braves Sweep 5-Game Series, Reclaim Second in NL Race

Seymour's Prelipp Will Play in Saturday's Silver Sluggers Game

Pitcher to Represent Post-Crescent in Milwaukee All-Star Program

Pitcher Blake Lynn Prelipp, route 1, Seymour, will represent the Appleton Post-Crescent in the fourth annual Silver Sluggers All-Star game Saturday morning in Milwaukee County stadium.

The 18-year-old Prelipp was singled out for the honor on the basis of his performance in the Post-Crescent-Milwaukee Braves Silver Sluggers session held at Goodland field last month.

21 Others Named

Prelipp becomes the third batterman to represent the Post-Crescent in its three years of participation in the statewide program. Previously, two catchers — Menasha's Darold Eggert and Fremont's Russ Rusch — were picked.

The 5-foot-11, 180-pound Prelipp will join 21 other members of the Wisconsin-Upper Michigan all-star squad for the 10 a.m. Saturday game against the Milwaukee Stars. The Silver Sluggers game will precede the regularly-scheduled Braves-St. Louis game at the stadium.

Prelipp, who prefers to be called Lynn, is a 1959 graduate of Seymour High school. He is not playing for any baseball team this year. He pitched for the Seymour High team in 1958.

Avila's Triple Enables Jay To Stop Bucs

By The Associated Press

The Milwaukee Braves, who only a few days ago looked as they had had it, now have it again — and the "it" is pitching.

With Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette, Juan Pizarro, Bob Buhl and Joey Jay back in form, the Braves have reclaimed second place, closing within 1 1/2 games of idle San Francisco in the National league race as Pal Joey put away a 5-game sweep over Pittsburgh Monday, 5-2.

3 Runs In 5 Tilts

That 5-man staff gave up only three runs in the five games, blanking the Bucs through the first 30 2-3 innings and not allowing an earned run for 38 frames until Pittsburgh finally got one home in the third inning Monday. Despite a 5-hitter by Jay (4-7), who hadn't won in a month, the Braves didn't bag it until the seventh. Blanked on three hits until then by Ron Kline (7-10), they broke loose for all five runs, scoring on Del Crandall's tying, 2-run single and Bobby Avila's clinching, 2-run triple.

With Jay gaining only his third complete game in more than a year, the Braves now have won six of seven since dropping seven straight and skidding to fourth place. They trailed by 4 1/2 just five days ago.

Now they're even with the Giants in the lost column and have a 2-percentage point edge over the Dodgers.

Tonight the Braves will test fortune against the fourth-place Chicago Cubs in the opener of a 3-game series.

Seals' Stadium Has Top Crowds in History

San Francisco —(AP)— The San Francisco Giants packed little Seals stadium with the biggest crowds in the ball park's history last week.

The Giants drew 144,335 paid customers for the largest 7-day total since the park opened in 1931.

Unbeaten Bonduel will be heavily favored to add Landstad to its list of second round victims in the Dairyland Baseball League next Sunday.

Bonduel's fourth straight triumph was a 13-1 lacing of Hofa Park Sunday. Right-hander Jerry Marchi boosted his season batting average to .515 with three singles and a triple and he struck out 12, going all the way. Earl Berkman whacked a homer for the victors and had one other hit.

Navarino broke a second place tie with Nichols by ringing up a 7-4 success over the former co-runners. Jerry Herb, the winner, went all the way as did Joe Buss. Navarino scored single runs in the first and the second and led all the way. Kay Plammann hit a solo homer for the losers.

Black Creek bumped Landstad, 11-2. Jim Ludwig, the winner, tossed a 2-hitter, striking out seven and walking two. The loser was B. Hagihorst.

Jerry Hartleben doubled and walloped three singles for Black Creek. Len Toelner and Martin Themer got the lone hits off Ludwig, both singles. Ludwig aided his own cause with a pair of singles.

Jim Hickey New Coach Of Tar Heels

Chapel Hill, N. C. — Jim Hickey, an assistant of North Carolina's football staff for three years and a successful small college coach before that, is the new head coach of the Tar Heels.

The 39-year-old Hickey was appointed Monday to succeed Jim Tatum, who died last Thursday of a virus infection.

Hickey, head coach at Hampden-Sydney college in Virginia for five years before coming here in 1956, was given a 3-year contract. It calls for an annual salary of $12,000.

Next Monday's Games: Interlake vs. Elm Tree. Post-Crescent vs. Pierce Auto. Miller Electric vs. IPC.

Post-Crescent kept alive its chances for a 500 American Industrial Softball league title Monday night by handing front-running Interlake its first loss of the season, 7-3.

Don Schroeder outpitched the losers' Bob Diner. Schroeder gave up six hits, two by Len Harp. Ron Christensen, Rolfe Pruno and Schroeder all homered off Diner. Ken Mahagan hit a round-tripper for Interlake.

Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S. C., gives her caddy, Warren Vander Voort, 15, a kiss on the cheek after she won first prize money in the $20,000 Mount Prospect Women's open Monday. Betsy toured the first nine holes of the final round in 3-under-par 34 for a 63-hole tally of 253.

9 Gain 2nd Round In City Links Play

Gmeiner, Selig Squeeze Out 1-Up Tournament Triumphs

Nine players fired their way into the second round of the Appleton city golf tournament during the first week of play at the Reid Municipal course. Seven first-round matches remain to be played in the men's championship flight.

The narrowest first-week wins were scored by Elmer Selig and Bill Gmeiner. They eliminated Dave Wittwer and Sherman Heideman, respectively, by 1-up margins. The easiest first-week winners were Tom McKenny (8-7 over Bob Besch) and John Lindberg (7 and 5 over Fran Williamson).

Other winners: Others who have gained the second round of the thirteenth annual tournament are Howard Bowers (3-2 winner over Jim Selig); Bob Duszak (3-2 winner over Jerry Kroiss); John Steudel (4-2 winner over Bob King); John Hurley (who ousted Gary Krick); and Joe Kneice (victor over Laymon "Doc" Wonser).

Medalist and former champion "Syl" Bayer has not yet played his first-round match against Bill Tordor. The men's title is vacant since Al Baerenwald is not defending.

Finals in the championship and other flights are set for Aug. 30. First-week results in other flights:

Betsy Rawls Wins $6,500 Prize By One Stroke

Mount Prospect, Ill. — Momentarily, at least, Richard Hauff has lost his Midas touch.

The 25-year-old raconteur who in 1943 was a war wail in his native Iran and last February bought the Mount Prospect Country Club for a million dollars, just blew his first golf tournament.

That $27,500—the dapper Hauff's own figure—represents his first setback after spiraling financially upward in an amazing rags-to-riches story.

Richest Prize Betsy Rawls won Hauff's $20,000 Mount Prospect Women's open Monday with a 5-under-par 291. She beat out her closest chum, Mickey Wright, by one stroke for the $6,500 first prize, richest in women's golf.

Mickey blew her chance on the last hole, when a trap cost her a bogey 5, and settled for runner-up cash of $2,100. Fay Crocker was third with 293, followed by Louise Suggs at 295 and Beverly Hanson 296.

Hauff said this may be his last attempt to promote a tournament for a while. "I learned a lot," he said. "But the lesson was expensive. I thought I might drop as much as $20,000 and count it as good publicity for the club. But $27,500 is too much."

Shea said the league would have a minimum of eight clubs, perhaps 10 and more than 12 when fully organized. It will play a 154 game schedule.

"We are proceeding on the basis of complete and unequal cooperation of the two existing major leagues," Shea said in a statement.

Shea also disclosed the league had arranged to comply with a request from Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) to appear July 31 in Washington before an antitrust subcommittee.

Such matters as the league presidency, the additional cities, television, bonus payment and major-minor relations are still to be determined.

Puts Up $50,000 Each owner has put up $50,000 and is prepared to dig down for $2,500,000, exclusive of park facilities, to finance the promotion.

Jack Kent Cooke, owner of the Toronto franchise in the International league, backs the Toronto franchise with $2,500,000 of his own money.

Houston's effort is backed by the Houston Sports association under the chairmanship of Craig Cullinan Jr., an oil executive.

The Minneapolis-St. Paul franchise is backed by a group of citizens, headed by Wheelock Whitney Jr.

Denver Owner In Denver it is Robert L. Howsam, owner of the Denver club of the American association. His father-in-law, Edwin C. Johnson, a former Colorado governor, U. S. senator and president of the defunct Western league, has been working with Shea in the formation of the league. There is some talk that he might be the president.

The New York backers were identified several weeks ago. There are three groups headed by Joan W. Payson, sister of John Hay Whitney, American ambassador to Great Britain; a Dorothy Killam of Montreal and Dwight F. Davis Jr., son of the donor of tennis' Davis cup.

Mrs. Payson is a stockholder in the San Francisco Giants.

Rosensohn Sure That Champion Will Meet Floyd in September

Ingo's Advisor Wants Questions About 1st Fight Purse Settled

Goteborg, Sweden, — Promoter Bill Rosensohn is sure Ingemar Johansson will defend his heavyweight title against Floyd Patterson as per agreement in the United States in September.

Edwin Ahlquist, the champion's advisor, says there will be no negotiations until all questions about Ingemar's purse for the first fight, June 26, are fully settled.

Johansson said he surely is going to the United States. He added henceforth he would only sign contracts "where I can see the signature of my challenger on the opposite side."

Ahlquist and Rosensohn held conferences all day Monday. Then Ahlquist called a press conference to explain that the promoter was going back to New York today to get a complete financial statement on the first fight.

Rosensohn had nothing to say at the conference. Monday night in a telephone interview he said emphatically he had an ironclad contract for the return fight. He said he was confident things would be straightened out.

Laughs It Off "It is only natural that he wants to see that he gets what he has coming to him," said Rosensohn. Much of the champ's purse was tied up in escrow to assure he would go through with the rematch and in legal proceedings by heavyweights Eddie Machen and Rocky Marciano, who claimed damages for a Dorothy Killam of Montreal runout on an alleged rematch.

When a reporter asked Rosensohn to confirm or deny rumors that he might become Ingemar's manager, the promoter laughed it off.

"I am a promoter, not a manager," he said.

Rosensohn repeated that he would handle all the television and radio arrangements for the rematch.

The champion, returning from an exhibition tour that netted 125,000 Swedish crowns (about $25,000), said he was ready to fight Patterson Sept. 22 "if a match is arranged for that date."

John DeYoung Cops Golf Honors

John DeYoung's 37 was the low gross in latest action in the Muni Goodfellowship golf league at the Reid Municipal course.

Syl Bayer, Don Sprague and Gary Krek followed with 38, and 39s were shot by "Babe" Beyer and Bob Geenen.

The Hole Hi's lead the league with a 419 point total while the Royals are second, 12 points off the pace.

Lewiston, Idaho — Jimmy Grow, 134, Lewiston, knocked out Al Carroll, 133, Sacramento, Calif., 7.

Red Sox' Casale Drops Cleveland Into 1st-Place Tie

Wins, 4-0, Over Score and Tribe; A's Take 8th Straight

By The Associated Press

Herb Score still is the "if" man for Cleveland, but now the young left-hander could be the difference between the pennant and a near-miss by the Indians, not just a first or second division finish.

In each of the last two springs, the lightly regarded Indians had been figured to be only as good as Score. Last season it was "if Score can come back from that tragic injury." This spring it was "if Score can shake that arm trouble."

Now, with the Indians shooting for all the marbles, he has been the tough-luck disappointment of their surprising staff.

Boston Slump Ends

Score lost his fourth in a row Monday night, a loser to a shutout for the second time in a 3-week span. This one was a 3-hitter by Jerry Casale that ended Boston's slump at six games with a 4-0 victory, clipped the Indians' winning streak at five and dropped them into a tie for the American league lead with Chicago's idle White Sox.

It was only the sixth time Cleveland has been blanked this season, but Score (9-9) has been the loser in half of them.

Kansas City matched the longest winning streak in the majors this season, making it eight in a row with a 7-6 decision over Washington that hoisted the A's past Detroit into fifth place. Baltimore dropped the Tigers, 5-2, with Gene Woodling driving in all the Oriole runs.

The Indians managed nothing but singles off Casale, 25, a right-handed rookie whose only other shutout was a 3-hit job on the White Sox last month. He walked five and struck out three in gaining a 7-6 record.

The last place Red Sox, only 4-10 against Cleveland for the season, put it away with a run in the second on Dick Gernert's single, two walks and an infield out. Jackie Jensen and Frank Malzone added solo homers, Jensen hitting his 22nd, off Score, and Malzone his 12th off Al Cicotte.

Score, without a victory since July 3 and beaten in seven of his last 11 decisions over two months, gave up four hits, walked five and fanned five in his five innings. He now has an 11-12 record since almost losing an eye when struck by a line drive in '37. Two runs in the eighth on singles by pinchhitter Frank House and Joe DeMaestri won it for the A's, matching the White Sox' mid-May winning streak. The Senators, losing their ninth in a row, set a Washington record with 123 home runs for a season on Harmon Killebrew's 33rd and a grand-slam by Faye Thronberry, which was matched by the A's Roger Maris. Harry Chiti also homered for Kansas City. Murry Dickson (1-0) won it, with Hal Woodeshick (0-3) the loser.

Woodling, driving in the Orioles' last nine runs, cracked a grand-slam, his thirteenth homer, off loser Jim Bunning (9-9) in the third inning, then added an RBI single in the seventh. Hec Brown (7-6) won it with Billy Loes' three in innings of hitless relief.

Since he joined the Braves last Wednesday, Milwaukee has changed a rout into a chase and is challenging for the National league lead.

Two years ago, after just missing the title in 1956, the Braves traded with the Giants, then of New York, for "Red" Schoendienst and went on to win their first pennant since moving to Milwaukee. He was at second again last year and the Braves repeated. Tuberculosis put the veteran infielder out of the lineup this year. A parade of replacements attempted to fill the post. The Braves turned to the American league and bought the 33-year-old Avila from the Boston Red Sox.

In his first game with Milwaukee, Avila's first hit was a ninth-inning home run that beat the Cincinnati Reds and snapped the losing streak. He's been at second every game since and during the span the Braves have won six of seven contests, and climbed back to second place, only a half game behind the league-leading San Francisco Giants.

Scholarship Won by Defferding

Evans Award Is Third for a BDM Caddy

Wayne Defferding, caddy-master at Butte des Morts, has won an Evans golf scholarship.

Wayne, a 1959 Appleton High school graduate, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ory Defferding, 1436 W. Eighth street.

He is the third youth associated with BDM to win a scholarship. Last year, Ron Durnee was the recipient, and several years ago, Jerry Gresenz won one.

Defferding plans to major in chemistry at the University of Wisconsin. The scholarship covers tuition, room and board and is good for the student's entire university tenure.

To be eligible for the grant, a youth must be in the upper third of his graduating class, must have caddied at least three years and must show financial need.

Housewife Makes Good on Broadway

Arlene Frank Trades Dish Towel For Leading Role in 'Music Man'

BY WILLIAM BENDER

New Haven, Conn.—(AP)—Housewives—would you chuck mop and dish towel for the glamorous life of the Broadway stage?

Come along, and see how it's done. It's a cinch, if— You can sing, dance, have fresh good looks, and have worked in off-Broadway shows, on the summer circuit and on television.

The latest heroine of the real-life Broadway success story is Mrs. Jack P. Green, wife of a Yale University pharmacology professor.

You may know her better as Arlene Frank, playing the lead role of Marian, the librarian in "The Music Man." She recently replaced Barbara Cook opposite Robert Preston.

"Despite what you may have heard otherwise, there's only one way to get a job," says Miss Frank, "and that's to work hard."

"People think there are all kinds of short cuts—there aren't any short cuts."

Question Settled She spends more than three hours a day commuting between New York and New Haven and her two lives of Broadway star-to-be and Yale faculty wife.

What about hubby? "If he should object," says the little lady, "I don't imagine I would work."

But she adds quickly that there is no danger of that. The question of her career was settled—with an understanding it would continue—before their marriage last fall.

Besides, she says, "he's very excited and very proud."

Performing Bug

Or, as she commented about her decision to leave her native Minneapolis, Minn., "The performing bug just was too strong—somehow I felt I had to go on with it."

Like many singing careers, Miss Frank's began during childhood.

"I've always sung—all my life," she says, "and I guess a performer needs an outlet. Eventually I found myself thinking about getting into it professionally."

It wasn't long before she was in New York City, working in the fashion service department of a magazine and taking singing lessons on the side.

Hard Work

"When I arrived I knew I needed more work," she says. A year later she decided she was ready to make the theatrical rounds. Within a few months she had her first job—a lead in an off-Broadway review.

"Then came other off-Broadway parts, major roles in 20 summer circuit musicals, and television—soap operas, serious dramas, and the lead in the 'Omnibus' production of Gilbert and Sullivan's 'Trial By Jury.'"

She was considering a summer tour in "H. M. S. Pinafore" with Martyn Greene, a veteran savoyard, when the job in "The Music Man" opened up.

She owes much to her stock company experience—including her husband. While playing in New Jersey last summer, she was introduced to a young man who had come down from New Haven to watch a friend in the show.

That's right, it was Dr. Green. Time did the rest. P. S. She still spends time pushing that mop, and twirling that dish towel.

Brigitte Bardot's Sister Rejects Role In Hollywood Movie

TV Beauties' Jobs Require Hard Work

BY CHARLES MERCER

New York —(AP)—"What a soft job. All they have to do is stand on camera, look cute and be admired."

This is a comment that's beginning to bore four pretty girls at NBC-TV who are "show-offs" on the network. Sandra Wirth, Marian Stafford, June Ferguson and Toni Wallace have 14 major beauty titles among them.

The girls, who show products and prizes while helping contestants and emcees on NBC-TV quiz and audience participation programs, issue this general warning to this year's crop of beauty contest winners:

Have Talent too

"Beauty is fine. But a girl must have talent too—and work at it."

Besides "standing around" each Monday through Friday for the visual enjoyment of millions, the four spend about 50 hours a week in rehearsals, sponsor meetings, demonstrations of products and long sessions with makeup and wardrobe men and beauticians. Summarizing their careers, Miss Wirth says:

"The world is full of beautiful girls. But in show business there's no such thing as a beautiful, lazy girl."

Standby Becomes Star Of Stage Production, 'Two for the Seesaw'

New York —(AP)—Lee Grant, a standby for a year, has taken over the feminine role in the dual part hit, "Two for the Seesaw."

"If you like someone terribly in the role, as I did Anne," she says, "there is a real danger of picking up something not your own."

Bob Mathias Will Try for Acting Career

Decathlon Winner Has Co-Star Role in TV Adventure Series

BY BOB THOMAS

Hollywood —(AP)—Bob Mathias is going to try for an acting career after all.

Six months ago, the Olympic great gave up after waiting for Hollywood to use him as an actor. He took a job with a big construction firm that would train Mathias in all phases of building.

Now he's co-starring with Keenan Wynn in a television series called "The Troubadours." Oddly enough, it's about a pair of adventuring construction workers. But though the series is backed by United Artists and sold to a cigarette firm, Bob is coolly holding onto his non-acting job. He's on leave from the firm.

Won Decathlon

Cool is the word for Mathias. That's the way he trained for and won the decathlon at London (1948) and Helsinki (1952). And that's how he has approached this business of being an actor.

"It'll either happen or it won't," he philosophizes. Bob never had any great yearn to be an actor. After graduating from Stanford, he was approached with an idea for a TV series.

"But I had only six months before I was to go into the Marine Corps," he said. "That wasn't enough time to get a series going. So instead, we formed a company and made a feature, 'The Bob Mathias Story,' with my wife and I playing ourselves."

Exclusive Contract

The film was a creditable job. If no great money-maker, Ward Bond had played in it and he brought Bob to the attention of his great pal, John Wayne. When the athlete got out of the service in 1956, Wayne signed him to an exclusive contract.

But Wayne's company wasn't making movies. For a year and a half, Bob played in only one film, "China Doll." Most actors would flip their lids over such inactivity. Not Bob.

"Why should I have complained?" he said. "I was collecting a good salary, and I was allowed to do outside things."

Such things were seeing the 1956 Olympics at Melbourne as President Eisenhower's personal representative, holding sports thrives around the country, showing his prowess in foreign lands for the state department, representing a sports magazine.

U. S. Sympathy For Oppressed Nothing New

Principles Behind
'Captive Nations'
Week' Seen in 1892

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Maybe there ought to be a "Captive Nations year" instead of a "Captive Nations week." Then the protest will be continuous instead of once a year. Evidently those faint-hearted in our midst who think it was a bad idea for Lawrence the congress of the United States to proclaim American ideals to the peoples of the world and utter words of sympathy to the oppressed don't know that similar protests have been perennial in American history. Or else they are so afraid of offending Khrushchev that they are willing to appease him still more by criticizing what congress did. A glance at the record will show that the Democratic and Republican parties have for more than 70 years inserted from time to time planks in their national platforms expressing the sympathy of the American people for oppressed peoples abroad. It has become so natural for this to be done by both parties that the congress earlier this month spent only a few minutes debating the joint resolution which subsequently aroused the ire of the communist imperialists in Moscow.

Condemned Russia
In 1892, both the Republican and Democratic party platforms condemned the Russian government for the mistreatment of its people. The Democratic platform plank, entitled "Sympathy for the Oppressed," read as follows:

"This country has always been the refuge of the oppressed from every land—exiles for conscience's sake—and, in the spirit of the founders of our government, we condemn the oppression practiced by the Russian government upon its Lutheran and Jewish subjects, and we call upon our national government, in the interest of justice and humanity, by all just and proper means, to use its prompt and best efforts to bring about a cessation of these cruel persecutions in the dominions of the czar, and to secure to the oppressed equal rights."

"We tender our profound and earnest sympathy to those lovers of freedom who are struggling for home rule and the great cause of local self-government in Ireland." Championing Oppressed

The Republican national platform in the same year, under the title "Championing the Oppressed," had this plank:

"The Republican party has always been the champion of the oppressed, and recognizes the dignity of manhood, irrespective of faith, color or nationality. It sympathizes with the cause of home rule in Ireland, and protests against the persecution of the Jews in Russia."

In 1896, the Republican platform had a plank saying: "The Armenian massacres (by the Turks) have aroused the deep sympathy and just indignation of the American people, and we believe that the United States should exercise all the influence it can properly exert to bring these atrocities to an end."

Then, in 1900, the Democratic platform had a plank expressing sympathy with the efforts of the Boers of South Africa to gain "liberty and independence" from British rule.

Expressed Sympathy

In 1920, the Democratic national platform contained a plank "expressing its active sympathy with the people of China, Czechoslovakia, Finland, Yugoslavia, Poland, Persia, and others who have recently established representative government." Another plank expressed sympathy with the efforts of the Irish people to get their freedom, and still another plank called on the American government to "render every possible and proper aid to the unfortunate people of Armenia."

The year 1944 saw the first plank from the Republicans calling for a "free and democratic freedom, and the liberation of oppressed peoples and nations." Then, in 1948, the Democrats had a plank, too, "looking forward to the admission of the state of Israel to the United Nations." The Republicans in their platform that year also had a plank proclaiming friendship with the people of Palestine. The 1956 Republican platform said: "We shall continue to seek the reunification of Germany and national independence to the 1956 Democratic plank said in part: "We declare our deepest concern for the plight of the freedom-loving peoples of central and eastern Europe and Asia, now under the yoke of Soviet dictatorship. The United States, under Democratic leaders, has never recognized the forcible annexation of Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, or condoned the extension of the Kremlin's tyranny over Poland, Hungary, Albania and other countries. We look forward to the day when the liberties of all captive nations will be restored to them and they can again take their rightful place in the community of free nations." It's an old story with America, but somehow Nikita Khrushchev hasn't heard of it. (Copyright, 1959)

Small Pines Burned In 2-Acre Fire
Waupaca — Two acres of young Norway pine plantation were burned over Sunday about 3:30 p.m. when a brush fire got out of control in the town of Mukwa according to Sid Miller, forest ranger. The fire was on the property of Robert Ory, New London, who was burning brush about five miles southwest of New London off County Trunk X.

Splash Party Scheduled at Kimberly Pool

Wash tub, Pajama Races to Highlight Event at 6:30 p.m.

Kimberly — Highlight of playground activity this week will be the annual splash party Wednesday evening at the clubhouse pool, according to Gil Frank, recreation director.

The party will begin at 6:30 p.m. and there will be prizes in various events. Games include wash tub races, pajama races and diving for pennies. Awards also will be given for the best swimmer and diver.

Supervise At Pool
Recreation department personnel will be in charge and will supervise youngsters in the pool area. The only admission requirement is that those boys and girls who wish to participate must bring a cookie. This is part of a special activity.

A play leader will be at Washington park this week as well as at the school playground. Handicraft work will be carried on at both play areas and the project for this week is tiled salt and pepper shakers. Youngsters will be charged 30 cents to help defray the cost of materials.

Grade league all-stars and Pee wee league stars will travel to Hortonville Friday for return games with teams there.

The Pee wee basketball league is slated to complete its summer schedule of games Thursday afternoon.

4 Arrested With Speed Watch at Little Chute

Little Chute — Four men were arrested with the speed watch on S. Madison street Friday by village police.

Pleading guilty and paying fines of $10 and being charged with three points on their driving records were:

William Wildenberg, 33, 213 Lom street, Kimberly.

John C. Van Dalen, 27, 414 1/2 Pine street, Little Chute.

Cornelius A. Evers, 58, 400 S. Wilson street, Little Chute.

Auxiliary Gets State Citation

Kimberly — A department citation has been received by the American Legion auxiliary here for its outstanding work with junior members.

The citation from the state headquarters cites the major increase in membership for the junior unit.

Officials reported that the senior unit also is over the top in membership for 1960 with 203 enrolled. Last year there were 197 in the auxiliary.

Kimberly Okays Higher School Budget for '60

$347,205 Amount to Defray Rising Costs Of Teachers, Facilities

Kimberly — A $347,205 1959 to 60 school budget and a $286,000 tax levy Monday night were unanimously passed at a meeting of school district No. 6 at the high school.

The new budget is $78,150 more than last year. Added facilities, new teachers, new office personnel and more recreational needs were cited by Superintendent John R. Gerrits, as causing the rise in the budget. An additional $63,000 was added to the tax levy.

Tuition for students for this year could not yet be estimated, Gerrits said, because state aid had not been determined. Tuition costs per pupil for the 1958 to 59 term were $322.22 and $248.93 for the 1957 to '58 season, he added.

New School Law

In view of the recent school law before the state legislature requiring all school areas to be in a high school district by 1961, Gerrits recommended money left over in the building fund be used to take an option on land or purchase it for future school needs.

"Our boundary may one day extend to Lake Winnebago," Gerrits said. "If we don't buy land now, when the time comes it will be difficult and more costly to get it."

Other business included election of two members to the school board for 3-year terms. Harold Wentzel and Norbert Vanevenhoven were reelected to their posts. A $3 high school and $2 grade school tax rental was approved and salary of the school board was set at $50 per person a year. Alvin Fulmer, village president, was chairman of the meeting.

Car Runs Into House, Driver Fined for Having Faulty Brakes

Little Chute — Thomas E. DeValk, 18, 402 E. Elm street, Kimberly, was fined $15 in justice court when he pleaded guilty to having improper brakes on his car and causing an accident.

DeValk was arrested July 20 after he turned into a driveway and struck the Martin Natrop home at 1213 E. Main avenue. DeValk told police he applied the brakes but they did not hold and he struck the house.

Total damage to the house and car was estimated at $200.

$74,000 Budget Gets Approval at Locks

Hear Need for School Addition At 65th Annual Meeting of Board

Combined Locks — A budget of $74,000 for the ensuing school year was approved at the 65th annual meeting of the Combined Locks state graded school Monday night.

The budget exceeds last year's by $4,000. The increase stems from the fact that one new teacher will be added to the faculty.

Principal Wayne Hull declared that two years ago the school budget was $75,000. "Now we have 70 more pupils than we did in 1956 and still our budget is down by $1,000. We are probably the only district in the state that can make that statement."

In other action approval was given for the transfer of $17,998.60 from the building fund to the general fund. The money is needed to provide for sufficient funds for the first part of the school year. State law requires $45,000 to be available for this purpose.

A cash balance of $31,465.55 was reported as of July 1. In addition the village still owes the school $30,000 from its 1958 levy which is expected to be received when the village gets an income tax apportionment check next month.

Recreation Team Wins 1st Round Softball Crown

Little Chute — Joe's Recreation won the first half championship of the Village Softball league with an 8 to 7 victory over Lefty's Bar in a playoff game.

The teams had tied for the initial round title. Second round action has started and Gene's Bar and Lefty's lead with 2-0 records. Joe's and Nick's Bar are tied for second with 1-1 and Tousey's Bar and Log Cabin are in the cellar with a pair of losses.

Action tonight has Joe's meeting the Log Cabin at 6:15 p.m. at the Athletic field. Thursday night Gene's will face Nick's.

Boy Rides Bike In Front of Car

Kimberly — Jeffery Gaffney, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gaffney, 222 S. Main street, suffered bumps and bruises when he rode his bicycle in front of a car at 9:50 a.m. Sunday.

Harry Van Toll, 43, 1205 E. Main avenue, Little Chute, driver of the car, told police the boy came in front of the car suddenly and he did not have a chance to stop. The boy said he turned across the road to take a shortcut through a service station. The boy was examined by a local physician and released.

Your Money's Worth Savings Bond Rate Requires Boosting

BY SYLVIA PORTER
Congress must pass a law this session permitting the U.S. treasury to raise the interest rate it pays to Americans now holding or buying U.S. savings bonds.

If congress does not pass this legislation, today's senators and representatives must assume the risk of sabotaging the U.S. savings bond program — the greatest investment program ever devised for the little fellow.

These are facts:
The interest rate scale the treasury is now paying the 40,000,000 who own more than $42 billion of outstanding savings bond has become painfully out of line as a result of the upsurge in the level of interest rates since mid-1958.

Unfair to Savers
The interest rate scale also has become unfair to the 8,000,000 Americans now buying bonds under payroll savings plans.

It is far below what the treasury is paying other holders of its IOUs—the institutional and individual investors who buy securities in the open market.

It is far below what an individual can earn by putting cash in most savings banks or savings institutions.

Under the present rate scale, a savings bond will pay 3 1/2 per cent interest if held to maturity in eight years, 11 months. It will pay 3 per cent interest if held three years.

Short-Term Notes
Most savings institutions will pay 3 1/2 per cent, 3 1/4 per cent or even 4 per cent interest on funds. The treasury last week put 4 1/2 per cent coupons on some new short-term notes.

This is not fair to the holder and new buyer of U.S. savings bonds. The treasury freely admits that "in all fairness... some upward revision in interest rates is called for."

U.S. savings bonds — as well as cash and insurance — belong in the basic nest egg of the average family. The purchase of the bonds under a payroll savings plan is a superb way of saving regularly and conveniently without risk.

Were it not for the discipline and convenience of payroll savings plans, many people who are building nest eggs instead would be frittering away the cash.

Bottom of Heap
Because the program makes sense for the millions who aren't sophisticated investors is no justification for

Youth Loses License For Reckless Driving

Kaukauna — Michael J. Baeten, 17, 1018 Lindbergh street, Appleton, had his driver's license suspended for 60 days and was assessed court costs after he pleaded guilty of reckless driving before Justice of the Peace Oscar T. Jahns, Monday.

Baeten was arrested Thursday by city police.

Placed on Probation For Drunk, Disorderly

Little Chute — Richard Hahn, 23, 1222 Hoover street, was assessed court costs and placed on probation for three months after he pleaded guilty of drunk and disorderly conduct in justice court.

Hahn was arrested Friday night at his home on complaint of his wife.

The Law and You Police Power Regulates Rights; Protects Liberty

A property owner who may want to build a fruit and vegetable stand in his front yard, or convert his property to a 2-family flat, may learn that the town, city or village government zoning rules do not permit it. The government has exercised its police power once again.

The term police power means more than what we might say on the spur of the moment that it means, simply, that police officers can arrest us if we break the law.

According to law, police power of the state is the power to enforce a system of regulations. They foster the health, order, and the comfort of all the people and to prevent injuries and offenses to the public. It embraces all rules for protection of life and property.

It is based on public opinion of what man's plain and simple duty is to his fellow man. It is the power to protect the public against the abuse of individual liberty.

We have certain rights which we believe are God-given by virtue of our existence. All of these rights are subject to reasonable regulation under the police power of the state. This regulative power also has been extended to the promotion of fair competitive conditions and equalization of economic advantages.

Police power is vested in the legislative department of government. As an example, the legislature may prohibit any trade or employment which is found to be hazardous or injurious to citizens, and destructive to the best interests of society.

On the other hand, police power does not include the power of absolute prohibition of trades in useful and harmless articles. It does not extend to the regulation of business practices which have no detrimental effects on the public health, peace, morals, safety or welfare.

Announce Sale of Kaukauna Store To Appleton Man

Kaukauna — Richard Wildenberg has announced the sale of Wildenberg's Market, 610 Lawe street, to Ben Cherkasky, 1320 N. Drew street, Appleton.

Wildenberg has been the owner and operator of the meat market and grocery store since June of 1946.

Cherkasky will take over the building Aug. 24 and plans to do remodeling and open a Quaker Dairy store. Cherkasky has other stores in Appleton and Little Chute.

Retired Insurance Executive Dies

Saratoga Springs, N.Y.—(AP)—James Hazen Hyde, 83, retired executive of the Equitable Life Assurance society and son of the company's founder, died Sunday.

Death came on the eve of the Equitable's 100th anniversary.

Hyde had been ill for a long period.

James inherited the multi-million-dollar insurance holdings of his father, Henry Baldwin Hyde, at the age of 23 and became vice president of the company. He quit the insurance business in 1905 after one of the most sensational insurance investigations in the nation's history.

The probe paved the way to the New York governorship and the U.S. supreme court for the late Charles Evans Hughes, who investigated the case.

The youthful Hyde convinced many, including Hughes, that he was being blamed for the misdeeds of older and more experienced financiers.

Major Matters Left For Interim Study

Council Not Likely to Organize Soon; Formal Studies May Wait Until 1960

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison—Like most of its predecessors during the last decade or more, the 1959 legislature consigned to interim committee study some of the most important of the matters that came before it.

The joint Legislative Council, directed by Executive Secretary Earl Sachse, has a long list of study commissions by act of the legislature this year that will produce reports and recommendations to the lawmakers who will be elected in 1960 and take their seats in 1961.

Fall Session
The Council, however, is not likely to organize as soon as in other years. Weary legislators left Madison arranging for new appointments to the interim study organizations. Formal studies are not likely to begin until later in the year, or possibly early in 1960, because of the impending fall "clean-up" session of the legislature as a whole.

Among the major avenues of between-sessions explorations of the legislators who will be chosen to man the special committees will be:

Price spreads, price fixing and mark-up practices in the distribution of dairy products, and practices in pricing of pulpwood, and the measuring of the weights and scales of forest products.

Specific problems in conservation fields, including the administration of state parks and forests, and the uses of chemical insecticides and herbicides.

School Problem
The administration of counties and the feasibility of alternative methods of county government management.

The objectives of the secondary school in the state public school system, and its adequacy to the economic and higher educational patterns of today.

The revision of the state constitution, and the redistricting of the circuit court system.

The progress of the Menominee Indians under the new county legislation and the economic plan worked out for the termination of federal government stewardship, and the unresolved problems of public access to the forests and waters in the Menominee lands.

Local public health services administered by counties and municipalities.

Woodlawn School Names Three to Plan Playground

A 3-man committee to investigate and advise on playground facilities and equipment was elected Monday night by voters of Woodlawn school district.

Members are Oliver Krull, chairman, John Stevens and Lawrence Drier. The district has just completed a new 4-room addition to Woodlawn school.

Donald Geer was reelected clerk of the 3-member school board, which includes Erwin Van Camp, director, and William Durdal, treasurer.

The school budget was set at the same amount as last year, $53,000, with $48,695 to be raised by property taxes at the rate of $15 per $1,000 on the present assessment of $3,243,000. State and county school aids will supply remaining needed funds.

Pool Attracts 8,724

Molner Says Blood Changes Color Somewhat in Body

By Joseph G. Molner, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Would you please settle a dispute? Two people claim that the blood in the human body is colorless, and becomes red only after coming in contact with the air. One says her biology teacher taught her this.

Molner

"I am up in years, but do not believe the above statement."—Mrs. A. C. T.

That's a new argument to me, and I can't imagine where the idea of "colorless" blood came from. But we can certainly answer the question.

As a matter of fact, I think if we could hear what the biology teacher really said, it might be a bit different.

Anyway, the idea that blood becomes red "only in contact with the air" is not true. For example, blood is allowed to flow through transparent (but air-tight) tubing in such equipment as a "mechanical heart" or an "artificial kidney," but it is red. Or for a simpler example, what makes your cheeks pink? What makes you blush? Why it is the circulation of blood near the surface. The red color gives that pinkish cast to the skin.

Blood does, of course, change color somewhat in the body. As it leaves the lungs and heart, it is bright red. After it flows through the various parts of the body, it takes on a darker, reddish-purple tone, because it has picked up carbon dioxide and other impurities. These impurities are filtered out, the lungs add fresh oxygen, and the blood becomes bright red again.

more red cells than white) which provide the color.

More Like Straw
A sample of blood in a laboratory can be allowed to settle (a sedimentation test, for example) and the cells gradually drift to the bottom of the test tube, leaving the lighter colored fluid at top. I think it could well be described as straw-colored, rather than "colorless."

The same thing is done more quickly in a centrifuge, a machine that spins a sample of fluid at very high speed. The red and white cells, being a bit heavier, are separated by the spinning, or centrifugal force.

Just settling the argument, I suppose, isn't so very important, but if you've learned one or two new things about your blood, some day it will make clearer to you the way in which certain medical tests or treatments are conducted. That—the understanding of our bodies—decidedly is important.

Waupaca Man Faces Trial On Rape Charge

Waupaca—William E. Weinmann, 33, of 502 North street, waived preliminary hearing in justice court and was bound over to county court this morning when he was charged with rape. He was held under $10,000 bond for trial this afternoon.

effect on future pregnancies. A disposition to cancer appears to run in families sometimes; this is vastly different, however, from meaning that the disease is transmitted. For example, parents can pass on to their children a light complexion that is sensitive to sunlight—but they don't transmit the condition of sunburn. See what I mean?

Are you a victim of "vitamin starvation?" To make sure that your diet always contains proper food, write to me in care of this newspaper for my pamphlet, "Vitamins—Alphabet Of Health," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover handling. (Copyright 1959)

McCarthy School Sets $4,500 Levy

Voters in school district No. 9, joint Grand Chute and Greenville, approved a 1959-1960 school tax of $4,500, with an additional $750 to be collected the following year. The annual school meeting was held Monday night at McCarthy school.

The district voted $3,500 for school operating expenses and $1,500 for building improvements. $750 to be raised this year through taxes and the remaining $750 in the 1960-1961 tax levy.

James Heenan was reelected treasurer of the school board and Lyle Kaddatz was elected to the auditing committee to replace Mrs. Cora Breitrick, whose term had expired.

Other officers are Sylvester Smits, director, and Merlin Plamann, clerk.

Solution Offered Writing Problem

'Lay Readers' Could Assist English Teachers in Grading Job

An experiment involving college students from Appleton, Wis., may offer the solution to the problem of quately for college English teaching high school students work.

School officials said they would be willing to toughen in Princeton, N. J., indicates, the high school college preparatory English program if it was brought to a head in they could afford to employ. May by Lawrence Prof. Craig at least three additional English composition specialists. of education, in which he said, The ETS program is based on a simple idea. Housewives with college training and tested ability in correcting themes are hired on a piece-work basis to grade papers.

Women Like It

The work is the sort many mothers like. It's stimulating, and it means more money in the family till. English teachers are just as enthusiastic. The fear of a chore of correcting up to 200 themes for all her classes, a job estimated to take 33 hours, has been lightened. More writing can be assigned, which means writing is improved.

"You can't learn to write without writing," says Henry Chauncey, president of the Educational Testing service of Princeton.

The idea of using lay readers to help English teachers popped into Chauncey's head several years ago. But he takes no credit for it.

Began in New Jersey "The credit should go to Paul Diederich for having conducted the program and the Fund for the Advancement of Education for sponsoring it," he said.

Diederich is on the staff of ETS. The Fund for the Advancement of Education provided $150,000 to develop the program. Diederich tried it out first during the 1957-58 school year at New Brunswick, N. J., High school and nearby Bound Brook High school.

A total of 110 women applied in person in New Brunswick and 67 more in Bound Brook. Others telephoned. Only six readers, plus six substitutes, were to be chosen in New Brunswick.

The field was narrowed with the help of ETS and its testing experience. The applicants got a verbal aptitude test, paper - grading test, paper-correction test and wrote a short paper on a choice of topics. The 20 who stood highest were interviewed.

525 Students

New Brunswick High has a total enrollment of 1,375. About 16 English teachers were assigned lay readers for some, but not all, of their classes. Between 500 and 525 students in grades 10 through 12 had the benefit of lay readers.

The lay reader program, Diederich says, allows writing assignments to be stepped up at moderate cost to the school, usually about $500 a year per reader.

Readers get 25 cents per paper, 10 cents for checking

School Board 'Keeps Peace' Over Hydrant

A hassle over a hydrant resulted in a board of education gesture to "keep the peace" Monday night by paying to have the hydrant moved.

The hydrant, installed by the water department without contacting school officials, is in the Huntley school driveway, Director of Business Affairs William R. Knuth said.

Knuth recommended the board ask the water department to relocate the hydrant.

A letter from A. E. Dimick, assistant secretary of the water department, said no objection had been made to the location picked for the hydrant.

Practice to Charge The letter noted it has always been water department practice to charge for moving hydrants to new locations on account of driveways and sidewalks and other reasons not under its control.

Mrs. Myrl N. Davis moved that the board accept the water department offer (included in the letter) to move the hydrant at the actual cost of labor and materials and request that from now on the water department consult the board on such cases.

Knuth said moving the hydrant would cost "a couple hundred dollars," but moving the driveway could cut into either play or parking areas.

Badger School Budget Set at $61,400 for 1960

Badger school, District 8, town of Grand Chute, will have a $61,400 budget for the next school year, voters decided Monday night.

The budget will operate six rooms of the 8-room building and pay salaries for six teachers. In addition, voters approved a new septic system, which they hope to have installed this fall.

One room of the school has been rented to the county for its handicapped program. One room is vacant.

Mrs. William Martin and Mark Lowell were reelected to the school board.

Driveway Work Approved by Triangle School District

They also approved buying a new teacher's desk, a set of encyclopedia, shades, book-cases and storm windows.

Mrs. Lois Wilhams was elected to a 1-year term on the school board to fill her husband's unexpired term.

A budget of $5,000 was approved, requiring a tax levy of 2 mills, according to Donald Pennings, clerk.

Jack Schiedermayer, Ben Guyette Draw
County Jail Terms

Jack Schiedermayer, 30, of 420 Washington street, Neenah, and Ben Guyette, 39, of 1431 E. Wisconsin avenue, today were sentenced to one year in the county jail on each of three charges of writing and passing worthless checks.

Guyette, arrested Monday evening at his home by Lt. Jack Zuelzke, admitted sharing money from worthless checks passed by Schiedermayer and himself on a swing through the New London-Shiocton area.

Both men are wanted, Zuelzke said, in at least four other counties. They will be processed in municipal court by Judge Oscar J. Schmieg as district attorneys in the other counties file complaints.

Schiedermayer was captured by Outagamie and Calumet county authorities as he sat in the kitchen of a cottage at Fairy Springs on Lake Winnebago last Thursday.

Both Schiedermayer and Guyette are on parole from the state prison at Waupun—Guyette for worthless checks and Schiedermayer for assault, theft and unarmed robbery.

Zuelzke said there are at least 16 or 17 other worthless checks outstanding believed passed by the pair.

Report No Agreement in Ball Case

Madison —A spokesman for the board of State College Regents said today the board and George M. Ball, former Superior State college professor, have not yet agreed on terms of his resignation.

Attorneys for the two parties have made several attempts at an agreement on Ball's overture of a cash settlement.

The board reportedly is prepared to offer the discharged professor the difference between his salary at Superior and what he received in his new faculty post at Iowa State Teachers college.

The figure would be projected over an undetermined number of years.

Superior President Jim Dan Hill fired Ball in 1957 for alleged inefficiency and incompatibility with school policies. The regents upheld Hill following a public hearing.

The State Supreme Court since has instructed the regents to reinstate Ball or give him a new hearing on the charges made against him.

Bill Could Raise School Aid $50,000

A 1959 state school aid bill which needs only the governor's signature to become law could amount to between $40,000 and $50,000 more for Appleton school, Supt. of Schools John P. Mann says.

The bill would pay $40 per elementary pupil and $53 per high school student, Mann told the board of education Monday night. Present aid is $35 per elementary pupil and

The bill gives aid on the basis of average daily attendance.

The board approved the resignation of Mrs. Charlene Parsons, first grade teacher at Jefferson school, and her replacement by Mrs. Emilie Anderson, a teacher in the Appleton school system two years ago.

Free tuition was approved for an Appleton High school student now living in a foster home just south of the city limits in Winnebago county. Approval was made contingent on the student's satisfactory behavior.

Mann reported that vacan-

Steffke Freight Elects New President

Directors of Steffke Freight company, midwestern motor freight carrier, today elected Cecil Vernon as the company's new president.

The announcement was made by W. Stanhaus, Steffke board chairman and president of Spector Freight Systems, Incorporated, Chicago, which today assumed management of Steffke under temporary authority from the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Stanhaus also reported the election of Maurice P. Golden, secretary and A. L. Ander-

Three newly elected officers are and remain officers of Spector.

Stanhaus emphasized that the election of Vernon is significant in view of his extensive background as a top executive in the motor transportation industry over the past 25 years.

School Board To Wait for Advice on Aid

The board of education will wait for written advice from the state department of public instruction before earmarking any more of its extra $19,800 in state aid.

The money was received in April when the state changed its base for figuring attendance aids, and $12,000 already has been earmarked.

A letter to the school board from the finance committee of the common council said "no further expenditures are to be made on this excess revenue until a legal opinion is rendered by the city attorney."

"We have sole authority to make budgetary changes," board member Franklin Nehs said. "They don't even have the right to tell us that."

Supt. of Schools John P. Mann agreed the money is under school board control.

Granddaughter Of Wiley Heads Girls' Nation

Washington—A 16-year-old Wisconsin high school girl, putting to good use some lessons learned from Grandpa Alexander Wiley, was elected president of Girl's Nation today. She is Wallis Jean Wilde, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilde of Wauwatosa. Her mother is the daughter of Wisconsin's Republican senior senator.

Miss Wilde, who was elected governor of Badger Girls State earlier this summer, was the presidential candidate of the Federalist party at Girls' Nation. She defeated Peggy Elizabeth Smith of Nashville, Tenn., the Nationalist candidate, for the top of office in the government workshop project sponsored by the American Legion auxiliary.

2,213 Lawyers Work Milwaukee

Madison—A total of 2,213 lawyers, or nearly half of Wisconsin's practicing attorneys, are in Milwaukee, the State Bar said Monday.

The report listed a bar membership of 6,836, with 1,337 outside the state. That brings the Wisconsin figure down to 5,051, including 109 full time judges, three members in military service and 465 inactive members.

That leaves the state with 4,924 active attorneys.

Busy Week Ahead for 4-H Exchange Group

Six Louisiana Members, Leaders Visit County

Oshkosh — Winnebago county 4-H groups are entertaining two leaders and four 4-H members from Grant parish in Louisiana in return for that county entertaining a Winnebago county exchange group last year.

The Louisiana group arrived Monday to stay until early next week. They are staying with the families of LaVerne Swenson, Eureka; Norbert Erens, Pickett; Dale Nolt, route 4, Oshkosh; Francis Zeller, Jr., route 5, Oshkosh; Harold Miller, route 2, Neenah, and Paul Cochrane, route 1, Oshkosh.

First activity for the group is a reception at the home of Mrs. Jeanette Thomas, assistant home agent, this afternoon. Two of the boys today are with the tractor project group touring a Milwaukee tractor plant and seeing a Braves game.

Tour K-C Mill
Wednesday's schedule includes a tour through a Kimberly-Clark corporation mill at Neenah and a luncheon sponsored by the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce. They will be guests of the Beaver Valley 4-H club at a party at the Clayton school from 8:30 to 10:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The girls and leaders are invited to the 4-H dress revue at Winnebago Thursday and a picnic is planned for them for Thursday night. A tour of the county is scheduled for Friday and a party by the Funeral Services for Emil F. Nemitz, vice president of the Twin City Savings and Loan association, will be held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Laemmrich Funeral home. Burial will be in Oak Hill cemetery. Nemitz was found dead at his home by friends Sunday morning.

Wee-Three 4-H club that evening. Monday night there will be a style show at Winnebago and a farewell party sponsored by the Junior Leaders association next Tuesday.

Spring Road Tax Levy Set At $94,924

District Residents Approve Budget of $116,000, 3 Teachers

Neenah — A $94,924 tax levy for the coming school year was approved Monday by residents of the Spring Road school district. The total budget is $116,000, with the difference from state school aid. Three new teachers were hired by the district — Mrs. Ellen Schoening, kindergarten; Mrs. Kay Reese, combination grades 1, 2 and 3, and Philip Rucinski, combination grades 5 and 7.

David Sugden, former district treasurer, was reelected to a 3-year board post. Immediately after the annual meeting, the board elected Sugden director. Other officers of the board are John Murphy, reelected clerk; Howard Birr, elected treasurer and Mrs. Verna Gallmeier and Elmer Brockman, associates.

Enrollment for next year is estimated at 240 children, up about 20 from this year's figure. Special education classes in the school will serve another 15 children. Three district residents and the board will form a committee to study the new law sent to Gov. Gaylord Nelson

517 Submerged Acres May be Kept by County

Committee Urges Dedication of Land For Public's Use

Oshkosh — Winnebago county board members this morning expressed a desire to keep 517 acres of submerged farm land, now part of Lake Butte des Morts in the town of Winnebago, in the county's possession, rather than sell it for taxes.

The taxation committee reported the land was acquired in 1933 for delinquent taxes and urged the property be retained by the county. A petition by Butte des Morts residents, asking such action, was filed with the board.

A resolution was to be introduced this afternoon instructing the taxation committee to study what legal steps are necessary to dedicate the land as a public hunting and fishing area.

Begin Foundation
Supervisor Herman Brandt, town of Omro, urged a foundation be organized to hold title to this property and other properties sportsmen may deed to the county for public hunting and fishing purposes.

Supervisor Clarence A. Smith, Oshkosh, taxation committee chairman, said residents in Butte des Morts had offered to pay the back taxes and donate the submerged property to the county. But the county should take care of the entire matter, Smith opined.

for signature by the recent legislature, requiring all rural school districts to attach to high school districts by 1962. Serving on the committee will be Daryl Madsen, Edward Huebner and Kenneth Bunn and the board.

Neenah Retailers Name Three To Study 4-Division Council

Neenah — Downtown retailers this morning at their annual breakfast session named Gordon Dews, Fred Breitenbach, James Meyer and John Cody as a committee to study the proposed 4-part retail service council to replace the present 3-part division.

The service council idea is patterned after the manufacturers council of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce, including monthly meetings. John Conrad, chamber secretary said.

Neenah retail promotions scheduled for August are Twin City Dollar days, Aug. 6, 7 and 8, and back-to-school opening Aug. 20. Retail promotion dates for the rest of the year will not be decided

21.8 Per Cent Hike in Budget Approved

Tullar District Postpones Action On Addition to School Building

Neenah — A 21.8 per cent increase in the 1959-60 budget was approved Monday by residents of Tullar Joint School district 2 in the towns of Neenah and Clayton.

Other major business at the annual meeting included discussion of building an addition, to cost up to $130,000; election of two school board members; kindergarten establishment; school bus garaging, and continuation of the present music program.

Next year's budget calls for spending $67,711, compared to last year's $55,576. Of the total budget, $56,155 will be raised by school district taxes. The district will end the school year with an estimated $31,404 cash balance.

Salary increases for teachers, as provided in contracts, and $9,000 for school site acquisition and improvements make up most of the $12,134 budget increase.

Building Undecided
Whether to build a 3-room addition to the building was left undecided. District Director Henry Hirsch said a special district meeting may be called within the next month to study the building needs more thoroughly.

Henry Malchow, chairman of the building committee, said the district served 136 pupils the past year, will serve 148 the coming term and at least 156 in 1960-61. In 1961-62 and 1962-63, he added, the first grade will have about 40 children.

Complicating their building program will be the district's debt limit. Director Hirsch said the district legally cannot bond for an additional $130,000, but might be able to borrow $100,000. (The district now owes about $108,000. State law limits school district debts to 5 per cent of equalized valuation.)

The addition, Malchow said would cost about $115,000 without a kindergarten. Another $5,000 could be cut if the proposed shower room is left unfinished.

The possibility of Neenah's annexing part or all of the district land was considered. Also a factor in school needs is the proposed St. Gabriel Catholic school, which may take some students from the Tullar district.

Hired Architect
While no action was taken on building, the board was empowered to hire Irion and Reinke, Oshkosh architects, to furnish a building plan to be used if needed.

Named as 3-year board members were Bert Oberlies, to succeed Mrs. Harold Hackstock, and Harold Mulvey, to succeed Howard Evans. Mrs. Hackstock received 22 votes on the informal ballot and declined the nomination. She has been serving as clerk, appointed to an unexpired term. Evans, district treasurer, received 16 votes and Mulvey, 21.

Kindergarten, proposed last year, still appears unworkable, since the school's eight grades are crowded into the five classrooms. Use of the all-purpose room, below ground level, is illegal, Hirsch advised, as is transportation of the small children to other schools on tuition basis.

Bus Garage
Board member John Arnold told the 45 district residents at the meeting he had obtained a quotation of $4,132 for a 32 by 40 foot steel building large enough for two school buses and for storage of school supplies. Bids, he added, might give a lower price. Action was postponed until next year's meeting.

Arnold said the district's one bus already has needed a set of tires because of the damage done by sun to the rubber. In winter, he said, a garaged bus will start more easily. Last winter the bus was towed many times.

A garage, he said, also would help prevent vandals from damaging the bus. No barns in the area are available for bus storage, he added.

Music Program
No action was taken on expanding the music program beyond singing for all and band for fifth graders and above who show interest and aptitude. Band members must pay for their first series of lessons on instruments they rent or buy.

Condemnation of land owned by Earl Hughes will come up for action in circuit court this fall, Hirsch said. The 3-acre plot adjoins the school property. Appraised prices range from $3,500 by three persons appointed by the district to $7,700 by court-appointed appraisers.

Hughes, in the audience, told Hirsch: "I wanted to settle this out of court, but you wanted to go to court."

Hirsch replied the $7,700 was "an unreasonable figure, in my personal opinion."

Liability Insurance
The district will carry a liability insurance policy on children, paying half the $2 per pupil cost. The policy, covering injury to children at school functions, is offered by Old Line Life Insurance company, Milwaukee.

If necessary, the school's well pump will be replaced this summer. Hirsch said the present pump is almost worn out. The audience agreed after the pump groaned loudly during the meeting.

Louvered screens will be installed in the west rooms of the school to decrease the sun's light and heat. Some children have had difficulty in staying awake in hot afternoons in spring and fall, it was explained. Room air conditions will be considered if the screens do not work satisfactorily.

Charged With Topsy Driving; Action Deferred
Oshkosh — An Illinois man of Finnish ancestry appeared in municipal court this morning on a drunken driving charge, but action was deferred until next Monday morning by Judge S. J. Luchsinger.

Eero Para, 52, Waukegan, Ill., when informed that he had tested .17 on the breathalyzer, expressed pleasure that he had passed the test. A reading of .15 is considered evidence of intoxication. Police said Para's mastery of English was not great and communication was difficult.

Para was arrested at 2:30 a.m. today by sheriff's deputies after he was observed driving erratically on Highway 41 in the town of Neenah. He posted the $150 bond.

How many other schools in the conference have lighted fields? Loren Anderson wanted to know.

There are three and others are considering it, Lehman said. The WIAA suggests all such activities be at night rather than part of the school day, leaving the school hours for education, not entertainment, he added.

Zimmerman added that the students already have contributed $1,757 toward lights and it could be used to purchase bleachers.

Gerald Anderson thought that money in the surplus should be used for school building maintenance rather than for the athletic field lights.

Lighted Athletic Field Loses in Winnebago Vote

Thompson Succeeds Eisch On Board; Tipler, Davis Renamed

Winnebago — Community School district voters Monday night made one change on the board and rejected proposals for a lighted athletic field and a round trip by bus for kindergarten children.

Named to the board to succeed Gerard Eisch, Winchester, a member for six years, was Arthur Thompson, town of Winnebago, a retired industrialist. He and George Tipler, Allenville, and Floyd Davis, town of Poygan, will serve 3-year terms. Davis was elected last year to a 1-year term.

The vote was 152 for Thompson, 140 for Tipler, 136 for Davis and 134 for Eisch. Thompson earlier Monday was elected to preside over the annual business meeting by 62 votes to 60 for Vernice Anderson and 47 for Herman Nimmer.

Some residents of the Winchester area after the meeting questioned the legality of electing the top three out of four on a single balloting or if each post should be voted on separately.

Thompson formerly was executive vice president, chairman of the executive committee.

Myrl Zimmerman raised the question of the lighted athletic field and suggested the cost be taken from the $115,000 surplus the school district expects to have at the end of next year. His motion to authorize the board to install lights and set rules for non-school use was defeated by 13 votes.

Zimmerman pointed out that a lighted athletic field had been before the district several times and trends were toward such fields. He claimed 1,400 school hours are lost by dismissing classes to permit students and teachers to attend afternoon games.

Possible Uses
Lehman said a lighted athletic field would be used for four home football games, a minimum of three baseball games and from three to five track meets. It also could be used by Legion baseball teams set up on a coin meter basis.

While Many Persons shed extra clothing in Monday's heat and humidity, Neenah firemen donned their heavy rubber coats and helmets to fight a fire smoldering in straw and plywood in an open basement in a house being constructed by Albert Johnson, a building contractor, in the 100 block on Mayer street. Children playing with matches were thought to have caused the fire.

Riverside Players to Present 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' for 3 Nights

Neenah — One of the classic American plays, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," will be presented by the Riverside Players on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. each night.

The play dates to Harriet Beecher Stowe's book written before the Civil war and was adapted by George Aiken and first produced in 1852 as "Uncle Tom's Cabin," or "Life Among the Lowly." It had a long run in New York city and toward its close in 1854 was playing 18 performances a day.

It was adapted into foreign languages and in the late 1870s had 50 separate traveling companies presenting it throughout the country. This grew to between 400 and 500 companies during the 1890s.

The Uncle Tom shows became so circus-like that they adopted the idea of doubling, two casts appearing on the stage at the same time, one speaking and the other pantomiming. Hardly a day went by for the first 80 years that the show wasn't being presented in some place in the country.

Riverside Cast

Appearing as Uncle Tom in the Riverside Players production will be Lyle Hillegas. Robert Gruetzman, a member of last year's 'The Drunkard' cast will be playing Eliza Harris, as well as Cassy, one of Simon Legree's thralls and the one living person whom Legree fears.

Simon Legree will be played by Bill O'Brien, a former Neenah High school thespian who had the role of Sgt. Garden in this season's "Hyacinth Halvey." The part of Shelby will be taken by Steve Schultz.

The Rev. James Akin, assistant pastor of First Presbyterian church, Monday stepped into the role of George Harris, one of the lead parts. The person who had been cast in that role abruptly was assigned out of the city. This will be the first performance for the Rev. Mr. Akin in Riverside Players productions.

Others in Cast

Halley will be played by James K. Meyers, veteran of many community theater productions, including the Riverside Players' "The Happy Journey." The roles of Aunt Chloe and the quadron girl Emmeline, will be played by Marcia Pyott, a Neenah High school thespian seen in "Hy-

Sgt. Dahms will observe recruit training at the fort by regular army troops. Dahms' unit's mission is recruit training of recruits in event of mobilization.

Players or with other dramatic groups.

Tickets may be purchased at the recreation department or at the door on production nights. The plays are presented in the Riverside Park pavilion.

Tickets also are available for Tennessee Williams' "The Glass Menagerie" which will be presented Aug. 13 and 15. Kenneth Anderson is director of the play and Jerry Schultz is assistant director.

Marathon Men Plan Jamboree

Menasha — The Marathon Men's golf jamboree is planned for Sept. 5 at the Shalagoco Country club at Shawano. Ollie Ebert is general chairman.

Other committee chairmen are Paul Stevenson and Dick Melby, publicity and advertising; Vern Martin, ticket sales; Bob Kees, tee reservations, and Ben Kluba, prizes.

Menasha Playground Campfire Signs Begin

Menasha — Campfire sings began today on Menasha playgrounds under sponsorship of the Menasha park and recreation department. Dale Loomans, who also directs the recreation band, is in charge of the programs.

Each day's sing begins at 3 p.m. in the city's parks. The schedule is Garfield park today, Smith park Wednesday, Racine park Thursday, Second ward park Aug. 3, Sixth street park Aug. 4, Seventh-

564 Children Finish Summer Reading Program in Menasha

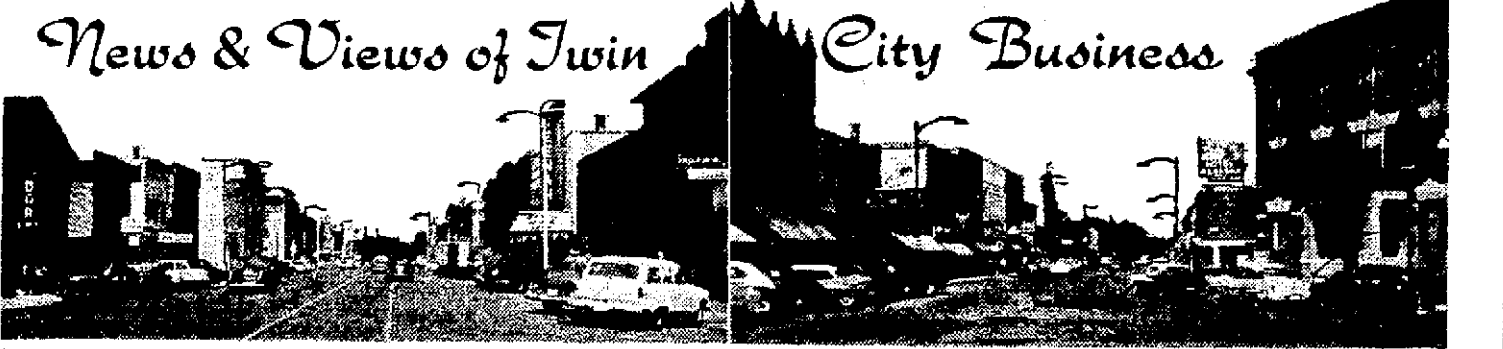

Menasha — The summer reading club at Elisha D. Smith public library attracted more children this year than ever before, reported Mrs. Daisy Bruehl, children's librarian.

The theme of the program was "railroading." Certificates were made for every child who read four or more books. A train sticker was placed on the certificates for each book read.

A total of 574 children signed up for the program, 472 at the main library, 31 at the high school branch and 61 at the Clovis-Grove branch.

Fall Hair Styles Curvy, Not Curly

Neenah — "Most women don't know how to wear their hair and go through life not knowing how," a Madison hair stylist remarked recently.

Hair styling is an art. Hair should be cut and styled the way it wants to go naturally, then fashioned into an attractive coiffure that is in complete balance with the woman, her personality and her way of life.

No matter how short a hairdo is, it should be feminine, soft, fluffy and cuddly. A short style should be cut in such a way that the woman can push or brush it into an appropriate evening style. Evening clothes are not worn shopping, nor should a high style hairdo be worn marketing. The trend today is definitely toward shorter hair — short, perky and attractive. But what may be short for one woman may be long for someone else. To keep a short style looking its best requires a good cut, shaping and a permanent to give the hair body.

Summer Care
This fall hair styles are curvy, not curly. The length can vary from very short to medium for a style that is brushed back high on the crown with the sides curving in to frame the face. If a part is used, it should be on an angle and not interfere with the natural way the hair lies.

The hot, humid Wisconsin summer weather introduces is no different than putting on lipstick. Rinses, dyes and tints are not just novelties, in some cases they're necessities. Why in this day and age should any woman want to keep dull, mousey hair when she can have glossy, colored tresses? One of the essentials of life is adventure and many women get a tremendous lift from having their hair dyed. It's certainly one of the least dangerous forms of adventure and harmless to the hair.

Today it's very easy to make a quick color change. Just a flick of the thumb will spray highlights into dull hair and other tints can be brushed or rinsed in. Just as fast the color can be removed with a shampoo.

Neenah June Graduates To Continue Education At Wisconsin Colleges

Neenah — Fall college plans have been made by 29 June graduates of Neenah High school. Many of the young men and women will be continuing their education at state colleges.

LWV Picks Finance, Booklet Committees

Neenah — Committee appointments for a finance drive and revision of "Know Your Town" booklet were named at Neenah-Menasha League of Women Voters' board meeting Monday at the home of Mrs. Walter Werner, 328 Park drive.

Mrs. Donald Shepard, finance drive chairman, will be assisted by Mmes. Robert Eiss, Ted Neely, Bert Halverson, Melvin Crowley, R. E. Thickets and Russell Flom. The committee will meet at 9:30 a. m. Monday at Mrs. Shepard's home, 824 E. Forest avenue. A training session for the drive is scheduled for Sept. 10 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Crowley.

Mrs. John Teeple, in charge of the booklet revision, will be assisted by Mrs. Kenneth Peterson, Mrs. L. W. Zabel, Miss Charlotte McIntyre, Mrs. William Daniel and Mrs. William Herziger.

Representing the league on a committee promoting observance of United Nations day will be Mrs. Chester Halverson. The committee, including representatives of women's organizations such as American association of University Women, United Church Women and YWCA, will meet Aug. 19 at the Y.

The program planning committee will meet at 9 a.m. Thursday at Mrs. Karl Forsgren's home, Lake Road, Menasha.

Ask to Attend
The league will ask permission to attend committee meetings concerned with redistricting of Menasha's fourth ward.

In accordance with the national league position on foreign aid, the local league is asking for restorations of sums cut from the development loan fund and technical cooperation appropriation bills.

2 Neenah Residents Find Tense Political Climate During Vacation in Cuba

Neenah — Unaware of the full implications of the current political climate in Cuba, two vacationing Neenah women are "very glad to be back in the United States" after a 4-day tour of the island.

"You could feel tension in the air wherever you were," reported Mrs. Donald Promer, 217 Fourth street, who vacationed with Miss Alice Jean Smith, 654 Reed street.

Although several tourists in Miami Beach, Fla., had cautioned the two young women about their proposed Cuban visit, the two vacationers chose to believe a Florida bus driver, who told them, "only 10 per cent of what you hear is true."

"I would liked to have found him after we returned," reported Mrs. Promer.

Their first indication of the political feeling in Cuba was the throng of farmers waving machetes at Havana airport. "What a welcome," remembered Miss Smith.

Truck load after truck load of farmers had been brought to the city for the "26th of July" celebration, they said. The vacationers reported seeing the farmers marching in groups of 15 to 20 supervised by one or two Castro soldiers.

One of the farmers told Mrs. Promer the government had purchased hats and shoes for them before the trucks brought the workers to Havana.

The Neenah residents noticed very few women or children on the streets. A tour guide was provided for their sight seeing trips, and the two women ventured alone on the streets only once.

Mrs. Promer reported hearing "what I thought was firecrackers" in the general area where Rafael Del Pino's plane was ambushed by Castro police. Del Pino was reported to be making a rendezvous with anti-Castro forces on a highway outside of Havana.

"Everyone we talked to had a different version of what is happening in Cuba," said Mrs. Promer. All wanted us to take back the message, "everything is fine," she added.

The two women returned to Neenah Sunday evening.

Bridal Showers Given for August Brides

Neenah — Showers have been given for two August brides-to-be. Miss Darlene Jean Wollerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Wollerman, 308 Hewitt street, will wed Howard Roy Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Johnson, 537 Chestnut street, at 3 p.m. Saturday in St. Paul Lutheran church.

A miscellaneous shower was given for Miss Wollerman June 16 at Menasha Eagles hall. Hostesses were her three sisters, Miss Yvonne Wollerman, Mrs. Herbert Trader and Mrs. Eugene Probst.

The future bridegroom's sisters, Mrs. Thomas Burrow and Mrs. Gerald Beckerson, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, entertained Miss Wollerman July 7 at Whiting boat house.

Miss Marlene Staffeld, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Staffeld, 973 Higgins avenue, will be honored at a miscellaneous shower tonight at her home. Hostesses will be her bridal attendants, Miss Karen Staffeld, her sister, and Miss Karen Bunn, sister of the future bridegroom. Miss Staffeld will marry Bernard H. Bunn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bunn, route 2, Neenah, at 4 p.m. Saturday in Trinity Lutheran church, Neenah.

Homemaker Club

Allenville — Progressive Homemaker club will tour the Bergstrom museum after a picnic at Riverside park, Aug. 27. Plans were made at a Thursday luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. George Tipler.

Residing in Kimberly following their July 18 marriage at St. Mary Catholic church, Menasha, are the former Miss Barbara Taplin and Le Roy Passehl. Parents of the newlyweds are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Taplin, 21 Mayer street, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Passehl, Clintonville.

Reading Reports of Current political developments in Cuba are Mrs. Donald Promer, 217 Fourth street, Neenah, left, and Miss Alice Jean Smith, 654 Reed street, Neenah, who returned from a 4-day visit to the island, Sunday evening. The two women also vacationed in Miami Beach, Fla.

Methodist, Appleton Squad Chalk Up Church Meet Wins

Neenah League Champs Trip
St. Timothy in Extra Frame

Church Meet
MONDAY'S RESULTS:
Neenah Methodist 8, Menasha St. Timothy 5 (8 innings)
Appleton Trinity 11, Neenah Presbyterian 2
Wednesday's Games:
6:30—Trinity vs. Neenah St. Paul.
8:00—Methodist vs. Appleton Sacred Heart.

Neenah — Methodist of the host Neenah Church league and Trinity Lutheran of Appleton garnered first round wins as the fourth annual Neenah Church Softball tournament began Monday night at the Recreation field.

Methodist, first round champion in its circuit, was forced to go eight innings before edging St. Timothy of Menasha 6-5. Trinity jolted Presbyterian of Neenah 11-2. Tournament play will continue Wednesday evening with Appleton Trinity meeting defending champion St. Paul of Neenah at 6:30 and Appleton Sacred Heart facing Methodist at 8 p.m.

St. Timothy Scores
St. Timothy scored three runs in the first inning and after Methodist tied the score in the top of the second, it made two runs in the bottom of the segment for a 5-3 lead. The losers held that margin until Methodist came up with a run in the fifth. The winners tied the score with a marker in the top of the seventh, then won in the first extra inning.

Doug Wiatrowski was the winning pitcher and Al Fredrickson was charged with the loss. Methodist had a 7-5 hit advantage. "Bud" Geibel of St. Timothy was the only hitter on either team to make more than one safety.

Schuster Wins
Dave Schuster halted Presbyterian on three hits in Trinity's 1-sided win. The winners made seven off "Tex" Harding.

Trinity was blanked for the first three frames but came up with two runs in the fourth, five in the fifth, one in the sixth and three in the seventh. Presbyterian tallied in the seventh.

John Jooss paced the Trinity swingers with three hits, including a homer. No other player on either team had more than one single.

Thompson Named Top Loop Player Cracks 11 Hits in 15 Trips; Red Sox Capture Two Wins

Menasha—"Chuck" Thompson, who cracked 11 hits in 15 trips to the plate, has been named the "player of the week" in the Menasha Junior Baseball league. His assault included three triples and a grand slam homer. Special mention went to Dave Meier.

The first place Red Sox downed the Giants 17-13 in a makeup game. Tom Simon chalked up his fourth win. Thompson led the 16-hit attack with four hits.

The Red Sox bounced the second place Yankees 29-6. Tom Schueppert allowed four hits. Thompson drove in nine runs and belted a homer and triple, both with the bases loaded.

The first place Knights lost to the runnerup Saints 7-1 in a Senior league game. Dean Schreiner gave up 10 hits, but scattered them well. He struck out six and walked two in posting his fifth win.

Jim Rueckl and Tom Hanson pitched for the losers. Dick Walbrun had three hits for the Saints and Tom Frank collected three and Jim Rueckl had two for the Knights. The latter has a 6-3 record to 5-4 for the Saints.

Winneconne '9' Faces Chuters; Edges Kimberly

Winneconne — Winneconne's Junior Legion nine continues Fox River Valley Junior League play with a twilight contest at Little Chute Wednesday.

The villagers returned to league action with an 11-inning, 8-7 win over Kimberly. The victory was the second of the year over the Papermakers.

Dale Johnson led the winning attack with four hits. He drove in the tying run in the ninth inning and the winning marker in the 11th. Bryce Schmude and Bill Malnoy each had two safeties. Jerry Binsfield topped the losers with a pair.

Schmude hurled the first seven innings and Bob Oikiewicz worked the final four to gain the win. Jeff VanderVel went the route for Kimberly. He struck out 13, walked eight and allowed 12 hits.

The Winneconne pitchers gave up six hits, walked five and put six hitters down on strikes.

Classic Bowlers Set 1st Session

Neenah — The Fox Valley Classic Bowling league will hold an organizational meeting at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday at Lakewood Lanes. Clayton McKinnon, league secretary, announced.

Because new league rules will be discussed, McKinnon urged all teams to have a captain or representative present. New teams also are invited.

Jitter's, Joe's Eliminated in Quarter-Finals

After pounding out a rousing 15-5 win over the Appleton Club Association team in the second round of the tenth annual Fox River Valley softball tournament at Appleton Saturday afternoon, Jitter's and Joe's Bar squad bowed out of tourney play Saturday night.

Wally Lom's Bar of Green Bay slammed the door on the Menasha club, 5-1, in a quarter-final contest.

Lee Peterson had two of Menasha's three hits off classmate Dave Stangle who had six strikeouts and perfect control for Wally Lom's. Cliff Brinkman took the loss — he fanned four and walked four with three of the passes winding up at home plate.

Industrial Relations 16, Carton Finishing 7.

Menasha — Research and Development and Carton Miehle maintained their perfect Marathon Softball league records at Jefferson park Monday night, but Carton Finishing suffered its initial loss.

Carton Miehle blanked Neenah General Office 10-0 for its third triumph and Research outscored Office Service 13-8 for win number 2. Finishing dropped a 16-7 decision to Industrial Relations.

Reg Denney hurled a 2-hit performance in Miehle's victory. Ray Horkman took the loss. Miehle scored five runs in the third inning, two in the fourth and three in the sixth. Jim Van Linn had three of Miehle's 14 hits, including a homer. Ken Reinert also homered.

Relations came up with 12 runs in the third inning in trimming Finishing. The victors added three in the fourth and one in the fifth. Finishing's production showed two in the fourth and five in the sixth.

Ben Stepanski belted three hits for Relations and Jack Clinman had a bases-loaded homer. Jim Dickson also homered. Loser Ray Dorschner led General Office with three hits. Bob Suess was the winner.

Research posted a pair of 4-run innings in its win over Office Service. Bob Rayford was the winner and Vern Graham was tagged with the loss.

Rayford, Jim Votova, Bob Noll and Simerson collected three hits for Research. Mike Syring had a pair for Service.

Pick Finalists In Junior Boys Doubles Meet
Neenah — Finalists in the Neenah junior boys doubles tennis tournament are Dick Wilson - Jack Ankerson and Paul Valente - Doug Ankerson.

The Wilson - Jack Ankerson duo bested John Schmerein and Steve Price 6-4, 6-0 in semi-final play and Valente-Doug Ankerson took Dave Heller and Dale Mrotek 6-2, 6-2.

The next tourney on the docket is the men's doubles meet at 1 p.m. Saturday at the high school courts. Alex Biolo and Tom Zeuthen won over Tom Malchow and Darrell Schultz for last year's championship.

Players can enter by contacting Ivan Williams, summer tennis director, or by reporting at the courts.

St. John Bids for Fourth Straight League Victory

Menasha — Unbeaten St. John (3-0) will encounter First Congregational (1-2) at 6 p.m. tonight at Smith park in the leading Menasha Church Softball league game.

A win would give the Falcons a share of the second round championship, since every other club has at least one defeat and second half play closes next week.

The other contest matches St. Timothy (2-1) against St. Patrick (1-2) at 6 p.m. at the Seventh street field.

Tourney Carded for Boys 11 and Under Menasha — The city singles tennis tourney for boys in the 11 and under division will be played at 9 a.m. Wednesday at the Smith park courts.

Youngsters under 11 as of last Jan 1 are eligible. Gary Gunderson placed first in the 1958 meet.

Competition in Box Hockey Scheduled in Jr. Olympics

David Risse won the elimination contest for boys 10 and under at Cook park. John O'Brien was second and Jim Schmitz third. Richard Darrow topped the 11-14 division with Mike O'Brien second and Paul Sauer third.

Doty Park Winners
Winners at Doty park were Mary Jo Blohm and Robin Cook, 10 and under and Chris Peterson and John Roedel, 11-14.

Lynn Smith was first in the girls 10 and under tourney at Second ward playground with Jennifer Lind second. Marilyn Schultz and Carol Smith were first and second in the 11-14 group.

Randy Winton was first and Bob Ebben second in the 10 and under boys division at Second ward. Robert Schultz and Denny Miracle were 1-2 in the 11-14 section.

Cowboy and Indian day winners at Washington park were Marie Hartwig, Tom Graverson, Mike Hammill, Mike Graverson, Jim Machamer, Wendy Haufe and Linda Haufe.

Winners in the various contests at Hoover playground were Kathy Klemm, Linda Tessen and Joan Gosse, jump rope; Mary Ellen Kozy and Clyde Pagel, table shuffleboard; Mary Ellen Kozy and Karen Milliken, tin can stilts; Don Jacobson, Doug Gosse and Carolyn Moen, marble game and Patty Ehrigott, Cindy Mueller, Susan Mueller, Barb Luebner, Rosemary Ehrigott and Dennis Gosse, story night.

Twin City Loop Standings Due For Shakeup

TWIN CITY INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE
American Section National Section
Strange's 2 0 Lakeview 2 0
Soo Line 3 1 Ramblers 2 1
Banta's 2 1 Packers 2 1
Wooden Ware 2 1 Main Office 2 1
Nee. Paper 0 2 Foundry 1 1
Tissue Mills 0 3 Gilbert's 1 2
Bergstrom's 0 3

Menasha — The standings in both sections of the Twin City Industrial Softball league are due for a revising tonight when most of the contenders are scheduled to see action.

Strange Paper, undefeated leader in the American section with a pair of wins, takes on Neenah Paper at 8 p.m. at Jefferson park. Neenah Paper, which won its last five games of the first round meeting between the two clubs.

Lakeview, on top of the National division with a 2-0 record, faces the Marathon Packers at 6:30 p.m. at Jefferson park.

The Packers had their record blemished by the Ramblers last Tuesday after recording two straight wins. The Pack won two previous meetings, 7-2 and 6-5.

First round champion Banta's collides with Wooden Ware at 8 p.m. at the Recreation field in the other American section fracas. Both have 2-1 records and the winner will move into a tie for first if Strange's loses. Banta's eked out a 4-3 win in the first round meeting.

The fourth game on the night's agenda matches Bergstrom's and Neenah Foundry at 6:30 at the Recreation field. The Foundry won a marathon 20-19 game over Bergstrom's in a makeup last Friday night.

every other club has at least one defeat and second half play closes next week.

The other contest matches St. Timothy (2-1) against St. Patrick (1-2) at 6 p.m. at the Seventh street field.

Voters Okay Half-Million School Budget

Winneconne Area Tax Levy $286,800, $7,200 Under Last

Winneconne — A school budget of nearly $500,000 was adopted unanimously by the Winneconne community school district electors without debate at their annual meeting Monday night.

The $495,490 budget calls for a tax levy of $286,834, about $7,200 under last year. The equalized tax levy rate will be $12.61, a drop from $13.47 for this year.

Higher state aids accounted for a sizable part of the $117,810 surplus the district had at the end of the school year. Tax collections were $30,000 more than the previous year.

Total expenses for the last school year were $469,164 and receipts $586,974.

Extra Teachers
Included in the budget are the salaries of three additional teachers, bringing the faculty to 50 at the high school and elementary schools, plus three administrators.

Expenses listed under capital outlay include blacktop at both schools, locker additions, closing room ceilings and additional facilities for the biology room. Venetian blinds for five rooms and drapes for two rooms also are included in the budget.

The school board expects to finish the 1959-60 school year with a $115,707 balance.

Clayton District
Clayton school district No. 1 electors reelected Millard Hyde to a 3-year term and chose Mrs. Clara Roblee to succeed Milton Westfall, who declined reelection, at Monday night's annual meeting.

Board members met after the meeting and reelected Hyde as president, Mrs. Eunice Bondow as clerk and Harold Miller as treasurer.

A tax levy to raise $32,000 was approved and the district will set aside $500 each year

Neenah Wins Rapids Meet; Sets 3 Records

Began, Zuemer, Fleischman Eclipse Marks; Team Scores 100 Points; Janesville Second

Neenah — Neenah swimmers set three new records in winning the Wisconsin Rapids invitational meet Sunday evening. Neenah scored 100 points, 37 more than runner-up Janesville. Wausau posted 42 and Wisconsin Rapids tallied five.

Joe Began swam the 25 meter junior boys freestyle event in 13.8 seconds for a new pool mark and Nancy Zuemer's 15.65 seconds in the 25 meter junior girls freestyle also eclipsed the old pool standard. The third new mark (34.5 seconds) was turned in by Sue Fleischman in the 50 meter freestyle.

Miss Fleischman led the Neenah scorers with firsts in the intermediate girls 50 meter freestyle and backstroke and senior girls 50 meter freestyle.

Double winners were Miss Zuemer in the junior girls freestyle and senior girls breaststroke and Connie Johnson in the junior girls backstroke and breaststroke.

Other firsts went to Marty Crikelair, intermediate girls breaststroke; Don Pansch, senior boys freestyle; Dave Mueller, intermediate boys 1-meter diving; Donna Fuller, intermediate girls 1 meter diving, and Jill Bylow, senior girls 3-meter diving.

Take Second Places
Seconds were garnered by Tom Johnson, junior boys backstroke; Steve Schmidt, junior boys breaststroke; Linda Fuller, junior girls backstroke; Susanne Wippich, junior and intermediate girls breaststroke; Paul Poellinger, intermediate and senior boys backstroke; Mike Lintner, intermediate boys freestyle; Miss Bylow, intermediate girls backstroke, and Nancy Sorensen, senior girls backstroke.

Third places went to James Weinke, junior boys breaststroke; Linda Buchanan, junior girls freestyle and Lintner, senior boys freestyle.

Industry Unit Plans Series For Foremen

Neenah — The manufacturers council of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce is making plans for another human relations program for foremen and supervisors.

Sessions will be at the Hotel Menasha on Thursdays, Oct. 1, 8, 15 and 21. Twin City industries will receive information about the series in a few weeks, the chamber office announced.

The chamber also is compiling a manufacturers directory to be published soon. Returns of questionnaires sent out to the industries are being reviewed.

Also being planned are action courses in practical politics for local industrial participants and the possibility of an eighth industry - Education day is being discussed.

J. H. Levandoski is chairman of the manufacturers council.

New Fugitive Warrant
Shoptlifting Suspect Posts $5,750 Bond

Oshkosh — Dominic Fognini, 42, address unknown, who had been held for lack of bond in the Winnebago county jail since May 28, was released Monday afternoon after he posted $5,000 bail in municipal court on a grand larceny charge and $750 on a fugitive charge.

Fognini's next municipal court appearance is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Aug. 10 when he will enter his plea to the larceny count.

Fognini was arraigned Monday afternoon on a fugitive warrant which charged "attempted theft of money, goods and chattel over $50" from the Surf and San shop in Brown County, Fla., Feb. 4, 1957.

Bond of $750 on the fugitive charge and $5,000 for larceny was put up by the Summit Fidelity and Surety company, Akron, Ohio. The fugitive warrant listed another of Fognini's aliases, Harold Finney. He told Oshkosh police his name was Harold Marino, Milwaukee, and the driver's license in his car was issued to Willie Savona, Chicago.

The man was arrested here May 28 on suspicion of taking eight suits from Spo and Sons, a men's clothing store. Bond originally set at $10,000 was later halved.

The district also will hire a parttime physical education teacher. New teachers are Mrs. Minerva Peterson, Neenah, who will succeed Mrs. Marjorie Robien as fifth and sixth grade teacher and Miss Betty Berndt, Oshkosh, who will take the place of Miss Yvonne Wollerman as third and fourth grade teacher.

Freight company, Wausau, today, W. Stanhaus, president of Spector, announced. Spector, one of the nation's largest motor freight common carriers, will operate Steffke under temporary management authority granted by the Interstate Commerce commission. The company's application for permission to acquire Steffke has not been acted on by the ICC. Steffke provides trucking service in Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, and Indiana, and has a terminal in the Fox Cities. If it acquires ownership of Steffke, Spector will operate the firm as a separate subsidiary, Stanhaus said. Steffke last year reported gross operating revenues of $9,963,730. Spector's revenues totalled $43,404,445. Steffke operates a fleet of 900 vehicles with about 1,000 employees. Spector's fleet numbers approximately 2,700 vehicles, and the firm employs about 3,000 people.

Name Cuban as Giving Support to Revolt
Washington — An inter-American committee reported Monday that a group of rebels trying to invade Nicaragua last month carried a letter from a Cuban military official asking cooperation. It said the rebels apparently got financial help also from the same source. A report to the council of the Organization of American States named the Cuban official as Ernesto (Che) Guevara, an Argentine who aided Fidel Castro's revolution and now holds command of the military garrison of La Cabaña in Havana harbor.

THIS "MERCURY" SPACE CAPSULE carries a man about to circle the earth. He is a human guinea pig who will test the effects of weightlessness and radiation on man. After a short period in orbit, he will switch on the capsule's rockets for the first time and send it back to earth. It will fall and be recovered in the ocean.

Technical adviser to DX Sunray, Irwin Herzer, Director of Publications, American Rocket Society.

DX
The sign of products you trust, service you remember.

Soon one of seven U.S. armed forces men called "Astronauts" will become the first American traveler in space. In the nose cone of an Atlas missile, he will be fired into an orbit some 150 miles above the earth. Thus will come the first step toward space vehicles capable of taking man to the moon, planets, and someday to the stars. These space voyages will be made possible by powerful, high-performance fuels like boron.

What BORON will do in your car...

Now DX Sunray harnesses the power of boron for your car.

DX Boron Gasoline—one of the century's greatest fuel discoveries—brings you a new world of smoothness and increased mileage. It keeps your spark plugs and carburetor clean. It gives you upper-cylinder lubrication free. It will not knock. Guaranteed to be better than any other gasoline or your money back.

So watch for the red Boron rocket. It points to the start of a powerful friendship with DX Boron and your DX Dealer.

Millions of motorists can't be wrong!
Change to DX Boron!

Why is DX Boron one of the all-time best sellers in gasoline? Because it increases mileage by 2 to 4 miles per gallon. Highest-octane DX Boron pays its own way over the cost of ordinary gasoline. Try it now!
